*"The dreamer dies, but never dies the dream,
Though Death shall call the whirlwind to his aid,
Enlist men's passions, trick their hearts with hate,
Still shall the Vision live! Say nevermore
That dreams are fragile things. What else endures
Of all this broken world save only dreams!"*

— Dana Burnet

THE DREAMER

A world without dreamers would be as gloomy as one without sunshine. What material thing of value wasn't once the dream of a dreamer? Dreamers never cease in their quest for knowledge, happiness and success; and despite the high pinnacles they may attain, they still endeavor to reach more lofty goals.

The harmonious spirit of security and friendship found in our "Valley of Opportunity" is the result of envisioned thinking by industrial and educational leaders. Not only have they set the pace for others, but they have furnished the facilities for community growth.

The buildings that comprise the entire Endicott school system are lasting monuments to the revered memory of the late Mr. Herbert H. Crumb, Superintendent of Schools from 1913 to 1946. He was a dreamer with the courage to live his dream. When he first advocated the construction of more schools, he was condemned for his extravagance and "fantastic ideas." Now the townspeople gratefully pay homage to his foresight. Mr. Crumb had faith in children, and it was to their welfare that he devoted his life.

We, the Mid-Centurians, are dreamers too. As we look in retrospect over our four high school years, we smile. We smile because the hours spent laboring over seemingly impossible homework shrink somehow into the background, and sparkling before us appear memories . . . memories of all the little things that will take on an added value when we reminisce with classmates about "the good old days" . . . memories of the very things found on the pages of the 1950 Thesaurus. In it are the precious memories of the past and even more tantalizing dreams of the future. We dedicate our yearbook to all dreamers everywhere, in whom lies the hope of the world.

*And this our life, exempt from public haunt,
Finds tongues in trees, books in running brooks,
Sermons in stones, and good in everything.*

—Shakespeare

As we take up life's challenge with its dreams and hopes, let us not forget the dreamers who have preceded us along the road of life. Many have attained success and reached the highest standing in their profession; yet they labor on.

MR. WILLIAM J. KRUM, JR.
Superintendent of Schools

The ideals of a practical dreamer are reflected clearly in every action of Mr. Krum. Not only does he believe that new methods of education should be adopted when they have proved themselves superior to older methods, but he urges those with whom he works to be continuously in search of ways of making education more effective. Through his guidance and influence, we are better equipped to take an active part in society.

MISS MARY L. PITKIN
Principal

The dreams of Miss Pitkin parallel those of Mr. Krum. She, too, labors earnestly for high academic standards in the school. A perfectionist at heart, she dreams of sending us into life better educated and more reliable citizens.

MR. DEWITT S. WOODARD
Associate Principal

What are Mr. Woodard's dreams? We realize that he has one of the most difficult jobs in the school. To him is attributed the responsibility of keeping us on the "straight way." For this we greatly respect him and hope that all his dreams come true.

JANUARY CLASS 1950

SENIOR OFFICERS

Seated: Donna VanWormer, secretary; Thomas Doyle, president.
Standing: Robert Dorin, vice-president; Joyce Stephens, treasurer.

THREE OF JANUARY'S AWARD WINNERS

Stephen Veselka, Mary Ciccirelli,
Robert DiPietro

Gone are the January seniors, but their impressive record has not been forgotten.

The honor of being chosen the president of his class was bestowed up on Thomas Doyle. Other officers included: vice president, Robert Dorin; secretary, Donna VanWormer; and treasurer, Joyce Stephens.

The graduates selected for their motto, "Life is too short for less than the best." Blue and gold were the class colors; yellow tea rose, the class flower.

Robert Dorin, Dorothy Kolanda, Norma Jean Mathewson, Louis Marinello and Joseph Pero had parts in the senior play, "Junior Miss."

The banquet held at the Harris Drive-In on January 25 was followed by the Senior Prom at the American Legion Clubhouse on January 27.

Reverend Thomas Kiernan, assistant pastor at St. Ambrose Church, gave the sermon for graduation on the topic "Quo Vadis?" (Whither Goest Thou?)

At the commencement exercises on January 30, essays were given by Lois Clark, Mary Ciccirelli, Stephen Veselka, and Joan Hawthorne.

The alumni prize for maintaining the highest average in all her subjects throughout her three years at U-E was awarded to Joan Hawthorne.

Two prizes were given to Stephen Veselka—the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute medal, for having a 95.5% average in two units of science and three and one-half units of mathematics; and the Mathematics prize itself, for achieving a 99.2% average in two and one-half units and 98.7% in three and one-half units.

Robert DiPietro was presented the Bausch and Lomb award for the highest average in four units of science.

Lois Clark received the Commercial Club prize of $3 for her 89.4% average in seven units of commercial work.

The English prize of $10 was presented to Jane Forest for outstanding work in her last three years of English.

The American History award of $5, given by the Kiwanis Club, went to Mary Ciccirelli for a 90% average.

And so, our January "Mid-Centurians" have gone out into the world, wistfully hoping that they will be able to achieve success in this era of increasing problems.

FAREWELL, ALMA MATER!

The January seniors invaded the Rumpus Room of Harris's Drive-In for their annual banquet.

JUNIORS

Dear Diary:

Another year has passed! It seems only yesterday we started our Junior Year and now it's over; yet as long as we live, we can look back—look back and dream. We all went to the Thanksgiving Dance and realized that next year we should be crowning a queen from among our ranks. The Christmas Formal was quite an event with those cute little dance books. Remember all the parties, the Friday Night Dances, and the Victory Basketball Dances? Oh, yes, how could any of us forget the Spring Formal?—the weather was right, the moon was bright, and everyone had a marvelous time.

Someone once said, "Music is the breath of life," and we certainly have taken that quotation to heart. Junior numbers outranked those of any other Class in Choir, Glee Club, Band, Orchestra and Drum Corps. We had a wonderful year of music that we shall never forget.

It was fun participating in the various clubs and organizations. Just think! Our Representatives and Senators were among the first to sit in the ranks of the newly organized Student Congress. From our Class, to mention only a few, Helen Pinkey and Marlea Homa were elected officers for Tri-Hi and "Kees" de Vente was the secretary of the Key Club. But we've only started. Come September, we shall add many more branches of laurel to our already heavy crown.

Don't fear for the reputation of U-E's coming varsities! This past year has given us experience as well as advancing our athletic ability. So now, as the seniors pass through the graduating doors, there is no cause for alarm. We are ready and capable to fill those varsity uniforms.

Furthermore, something new made its debut in the art classes this year. It was a calendar contest with linoleum block prints for each month of the year. These prints were well-known scenes in and around the Triple Cities. Naturally, U-E's Juniors with Dolores Dobon's "E. J. Factories" and George Mann's "Colonial Building" took top honors for two of the months.

Well, "Dear Diary," the year is over and we must say "good-bye." We shall never be Juniors again, for we must go on. There are better and greater things to come. Since we look back, we must also look ahead—look ahead and dream.

WHAT'S NEW?

Joseph Zweig, Jon Ferraris, Robert Briggs, Joseph Thornton.

"A PENNY FOR YOUR THOUGHTS!"

William Clegg, Dolores Copp, Gerald McLain, Donald McManus.

As you sit in 215 staring into space, your sophomore mind relives the dreams of the past year and foresees your fondest dreams of the future—a complication of schedules, the thrill of your first Christmas formal at U-E, the lipstick brigade . . . dreams of the junior and senior years, new faces on the cheering squad, questions about who in our midst will lead our football teams to victory.

Suddenly the bubble of fantasy is burst by the ringing of the telephone. Your heart comes to your throat, as you wonder if Mr. Woodard is paging you from the other end of the line. Any wrong deeds you have done enter your mind. The sigh of relief fills your soul as the teacher replies, "He's absent."

As the period draws to a close the silent whispers of the ever-courteous students grow to a rumbling. The weight of undone homework, of the coming band concert, and of Friday night's basketball game is added to your already overburdened mind.

Another period of classwork intervenes, before you are able to retire once more to your land of daydreams.

FRESHMEN

We, the freshmen of U-E, had many dreams throughout our grade school years. Some of these dreams have been fulfilled; others have not.

On our first day, the corridors seemed endless, and the rooms were extremely elusive. We soon found ourselves with a working knowledge of the layout of the school so that we were able to find our way around.

Then came initiations! Although always built up by the so-called "Upper Classmen," they're not really so bad—just a large U-E written on our faces with lipstick. After that we really felt that we were accepted.

Now, busy with classes, clubs, and musical activities, we hope we shall fall into our proper places so that we shall be most useful to ourselves and our school.

CHOIR

This well known choral group of one hundred sixteen choristers has shown outstanding ability again this year under Mrs. Ruth Edson's direction.

Last August, the Choir presented a half-hour coast-to-coast broadcast over the Mutual Broadcasting Company network covering over six hundred stations. The U-E group, one of thirteen choirs taking part throughout the summer, was greatly appreciated according to the report from the Broadcasting Company's main branch in Chicago.

These talented young people performed for the IBM Study Club, Kiwanis and Rotary during the year. They also sang at Baccalaureate services for graduates.

Selections deemed superior at their Spring Concert were "Beyond the Blue Horizon," "Battle Hymn of the Republic," "Country Style," and "Lacrymosa." For variation, some of the numbers presented were a cappella and still others with harp accompaniment.

As the result of its cooperation, loyalty, and sincere interest, performances of the Choir are so well received that requests for its appearance are frequent and flattering.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Back to work again last September hustled those girls who are a part of that distinguished group known in U-E as the Girls' Glee Club; back to work in order to be ready to demonstrate their ability in the Christmas and the Spring Concerts in cooperation with the Choir, also under the superb direction of Mrs. Ruth Edson. Exceptional work was presented by this group, particularly in the Christmas Concert when the hymn "Silent Night" was uniquely rendered in a darkened auditorium—each singer holding a blue-shaded flashlight, thus illuminating the entire hall and creating an impressive effect. The girls heard in the Glee Club this year will be future Choir members, and perhaps they will go on to even greater heights in the field of vocal work.

At the same time U-E's Dance Band members are gaining the invaluable experience that may eventually lead to positions with big name dance bands, they are acquiring for themselves a reputation for presenting a fine selection of varied dance music. Wednesday nights are set aside for rehearsals, when, directed by Mr. Leonard Panaro, they perfect the most frequently requested juke box favorites as well as special renditions of be-bop, old time New Orleans jazz, and blues. Many of our rhythmmakers are also members of outside organizations which play for public dances throughout the community. The opinion of every U-Eite who attends school dances is expressed when we extend a hearty "Thank you!" to our Dance Band.

ORCHESTRA

Long an appreciated feature at U-E, our orchestra is one of the finest musical organizations in the Triple Cities. The talent of this group is evident when it performs at assemblies, senior plays, and graduation services.

Under the direction of Mr. R. Crawford Stahl, a program including both classical and modern music was presented at the combined spring concert.

FIFE AND DRUM CORPS

The history of America's colonial period is closely linked with that of the drum corps. The rumble of drums was first used to summon soldiers during the battles of Lexington and Concord; and within a few years, nearly every Connecticut town boasted a drum corps of its own. It is only natural that many drum masters should be associated with that section of the country.

Mr. Acton E. Ostling came to us from Connecticut where he had studied under J. Burns Moore, a renowned interpreter of rudimental drumming; and in 1936, he organized the present Colonial Fife and Drum Corps of U-E. Under his direction, the corps has grown until this year when its membership of thirty-seven is the largest to date. Drum Major, Don Green, and Drum Sergeant, Mathias Burgher, led our continentally-uniformed boys in their many appearances at parades, football games, and concerts. Many of them have been recipients of medals in recognition of their talents as fifers and percussionists. Orange and black chenille emblems were awarded at an assembly program in the spring to corpsmen who had maintained satisfactory attendance at all events participated in by the corps for two consecutive years.

We are fortunate in having Mr. Ostling with us, for he is known not only in the Southern Tier, but also throughout the country, as a foremost arranger and composer of drum music.

The eighty-one instrumentalists that comprise our Concert Band receive enthusiastic approval at each performance. These ovations are justly deserved, for, besides spending study halls in the election booth practicing, band members also report for extra rehearsals before school on Tuesdays and Fridays plus occasional evenings.

Mr. Acton E. Ostling, director, believes in presenting well-balanced programs that will appeal to every type of concert-goer. "Die Fledermaus" by Strauss, "Adagio" by Corelli,

CONCERT BAND

SECTION

"Sleigh Ride" by Anderson, a medley of selections from "South Pacific" by Rogers, and "Cowboy Rhapsody" by Gould were performed at the annual Spring Concert in May. The band accompanied Reeve Copp, sax soloist, in "Csardas" by Monti, and Raymond Redolphy in the drum solo "Grandfather's Drum" by Ostling.

When those with potentialities of conductor material were given a chance to try out for the position of student director in the fall, Tony Diorio was chosen for this honored post.

FOOTBALL BAND

Members of U-E's Football Band realize that Mr. Stahl's instruction, together with the assistance of Mr. Schmoll and Mr. Randall, is largely responsible for its success. At each football game, the band marches into different and complicated formations to put on a magnificent spectacle for all. For this reason, the organization has made itself an outstanding feature not only to the school but to the community at large. Two of the outstanding scenes last season on the field were "A Musical Show" which included a lyre, a trumpet, and a drum, and "The Clock" with appropriate music for the various hours. At 3 o'clock, "Three O'Clock in the Morning" was played; at 6 o'clock, "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning"; at 9 o'clock, "Lazy Bones"; at noon, "Mess Call"; at 4 o'clock, "Tea for Two." The sequence of formations was concluded at 8:45 by playing "The Stars Are Going to Twinkle and Shine" and "This Evening About a Quarter to Nine." Our appreciation and thanks are given to all those hard-working students who have made our Saturday afternoons so very pleasant.

The "Orange Tornado" went to Ithaca for the opening game of the season and returned with a 26-0 win over the "Little Red."

The next two games did not find U-E so lucky for they lost a 19-13 heartbreaker to North; and on the following week, they took a 14-0 beating from Johnson City.

Once again U-E went "on the road," this time to Elmira Free Academy, and came back with a 27-6 victory.

The following week we played Mont Pleasant from Schenectady, our toughest opponent of the year, and took one of the worst wallopings in the history of U-E, 49-19. But there was a lighter side to the story, too. We achieved the distinction of being the first team to score against the Mont Pleasant eleven.

Slightly depressed from the preceding game, the "Tornado" dropped their next contest to Elmira Southside, 7-6; and on the following Saturday, they came through with a 6-6 tie with Hornell.

Finally the "Tigers" showed their claws in the traditional game with Binghamton Central and slashed their way through the "Bulldogs" to a 13-7 win, starting what we hope will be another win streak.

Although not an excellent season, we broke even in the win-lost column in the Southern Tier Conference play with a won three and lost three record. This put us in a tie for third place. In non-conference play, the team tied one and lost one, which gave us a season record of won three, tied one, and lost four.

BACK ROW: Tony Iacovelli, Bob Yankovitch, Reggy Dellapenta, Chuck Harvey.

The J.V. Football Team completed a good year by ending the season in a two-way tie for first place in the league. The team took two games from Binghamton Central, 6-0 and 12-6; one game from North, 6-0; and lost one game to North, 6-19. The team also played Johnson City twice, each game ending in a deadlock, 7-7 and 0-0. In a post-season game, the J.V.'s beat the Intramural All-Stars 6-0.

We are glad that our J.V. Champions are maintaining their usual reputation.

The best team in the Triple Cities! A squad that always shows finesse and teamwork in its play! These gracious words tend to describe the U-E basketekers. Fratino, Hudanich, Felter, Sventek, and Captain Picciano—each alternated in leading our team to victory. The boys wound up in a tie for second place in conference with eleven wins and five losses. Out of the conference, the Tigers lost to undefeated Hornell High in rough and tough battles—40-37 and 57-54.

The U-E squad had a well-balanced attack. It was built on the basis of solid teamwork instead of individuality, which prevails in other schools. Even the substitutes come in for a share of the glory. Such names as Cantone, Frick, Desko, Rommel, Cianciosi, Frey, and Serko were not infrequent in newspaper publicity. Coach Friderich also turned in the enviable record of defeating every Triple Cities team twice, which made him the second coach in 15 years to turn in this performance.

As this is being written, the U-E cagers are prepping themselves for the Section IV play-offs. If they display the same fine spirit and will to win as in previous games, U-E High will be in the finals on March 24 at Barton Hall, Ithaca.

The U-E Junior Varsity got off to a very poor start but came back in the middle of the season to finish in fourth place with a nine won and seven lost record in conference play. Outside the conference, the boys lost two games to Hornell High. None of the team members are seniors; therefore, they will form a fine nucleus for next year's team.

Faced with a big game schedule for the 1949 baseball season, the rapid-fire nine from U-E opened its spring practice sessions with prayers for plenty of warm weather and maybe an extra pitcher or two. With Captain John Kotsubka leading the parade, the young and inexperienced U-E harriers turned in a creditable performance under the able tutelage of Mr. Henry White. Captain John set a new record on the Vestal course early in the season only to have it broken later on. The team went to Syracuse and Utica and put on fine showings in both cities. The team has elected Myron Menichetti to captain them next year.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

During the 1949-50 school year we feel that a number of improvements have been made in the field of Girls' Sports. Some of these are still in the embryo stage; but, nevertheless, they are indications that activity and interest in Girls' Sports, which has so long been neglected, are at last on the upward swing.

The first semester saw the beginning of a Leaders' Club which we trust will in future years become an integral part of the routine. There was also a volleyball game, open to student attendance, played during fifth period which met with enthusiastic approval. We hope this practice may be extended to include other sports as well.

Our hockey game with Johnson City resulted in defeat for our girls this year. The final score of the game played at J.C. was 4-0. A number of girls journeyed to North High where they participated in a volleyball playday. There was also a basketball playday and a softball playday, the latter of which took place here.

The annual Sports dinner was a great success and a good time was had by all. The entertainment which followed the dinner was especially enjoyable. The girls who received their hard-earned sweaters were: Alice Jaros, Catherine Zicari, Mary Ann Kadlecik, Barbara Lewis, Nanty LaBello, Concetta Argento, Josephine Pero, and Jean Ann Ogden. Numerals were presented to Gerry Occhiato and Frances Kisling. Letters were received by Irene Heffner, Agnes Sochor, and Josephine Allio. The award for the highest number of points during the school year 1948-49 was given to Alice Jaros.

STUDENT CONGRESS

For many years, U-E has been under the legislation of the Student Council and Advisory Council. This year, however, the birth of a new idea has changed U-E's student government into the new Senate and House of Representatives, which operate in a similar manner to our national government.

At the beginning of the school year, an election took place, an election to select the person we wanted for our president and leader. In a close decision, Stanley Binkewicz was chosen the first president of U-E. His responsibility is a large one, for the first president's success will be held as a challenge for the forthcoming leaders. Stan has taken this in his stride; and, aided by his conscientious co-workers, he has presented countless new projects for consideration by the student body.

Following this initial step, other elections were held to select two freshmen, four sophomores, four juniors and four seniors as members of the Senate. Then one person from each homeroom was chosen as a member of the House of Representatives.

Unlike most high schools, our democratic system is in reality the "voice of the people." The combined efforts of the school's most capable leaders and Mr. Edgar Mulhollen, advisor, has produced a Congress with many opportunities for future development.

More and more people are becoming interested in languages each year. The newly-formed French Club boasts of eighteen members and is under the guidance of Miss Janet Mealy, French teacher. Its members have participated in numerous projects, some of which are: reading the "French Reader's Digest" and other French magazines, seeing French movies, and having outside speakers attend their meetings. On February 12, the club sponsored a "Valentine Whirl," a timely and successful dance.

The officers of this functional club are: president, William Carmine; vice-president, Annie Buikstra; treasurer, Dick Newton; and secretary, Rose LaSorte.

In the years to come, French Club members will value the information learned during their bi-monthly meetings; for in their own way, they are bringing the two countries closer together.

The Spanish Club, under the supervision of Mr. Zonio, has been gaining more and more publicity each year. Club meetings are held the first and third week of each month in Room 112.

One of the Club's various aims is to create greater interest in the Spanish-speaking and Latin-American countries, as well as in the Spanish language itself. A working knowledge of how to speak, write, and understand the flowing Spanish syllables may enable a student to obtain a good position in the future.

The Club sponsored several important projects. Besides the dance in collaboration with the Italian Club, members gave an assembly program. A picnic is planned as a finale to the year's activities.

This year's officers are: president, Olga Komanowski; vice-president, Barbara Hopko; secretary, Marlene Pugh; and treasurer, Florian Martinak.

One of the newer organizations of U-E is the S.O.S., a group of students interested in science. Club meetings are held twice a month on alternate Mondays after school. On the agenda this year were movies, discussions of pertinent science topics, and trips to I.B.M. and T.C.C. laboratories. Officers are: president, Lorry McConnon; vice-president, Patricia Saxton; and secretary, Jeannine DiLauro.

Science plays a larger and larger part in the great scheme of this modern world each day. U-E's members of the S.O.S. may well be part of this impending scientific movement.

Leaders in the success of the Italian Club this year were: president, Isabell Murphy; vice-president, Dolores Luciano; secretary, Antoinette Graziano; treasurer, Marie Sbarra; and reporter, Florence Guarnieri.

In order to prove their theory concerning the friendly relationship between the Italian and Spanish, the two clubs sponsored a joint dance. Members from each club worked together to make it an ultimate success.

An Italian movie was presented during the first term. On the activity agenda for the second term were another dance and an assembly program.

As their prime objective, members are concerned with acquainting other students with the famous Italian culture.

Tri-Hi sponsors all the traditional dances of the year—"All U-E Night" on Thanksgiving, at which time the football queen is crowned; the Christmas Formal; and the Spring Formal. A new highlight was introduced last year when Jeannette Pero was chosen May queen from a group of twenty-four candidates representing each Class.

Ever since the time of its founding last year, the Key Club, advised by Mr. Thurber, has occupied a place of prestige among our school organizations. Its members, boys who are selected for their superior qualities of character, leadership, and citizenship must also maintain an average in the upper third of their class. They usher at the school's social events, keep exits open during fire drills, and try to better all functions of the school. During the week-end of February 25-27, several members attended the State Key Club Convention at Niagara Falls. In April, when the national convention was held at Columbus, Ohio, selected boys from our group participated.

Besides being affiliated with this national organization, U-E had the distinction last year of having one of its members, Don Cantone, elected State Key Club Governor, an honor which is awarded to only one deserving resident in each state.

Officers for this year are: president, Donald Cantone; vice-president, Charles McManis; secretary, Cornelis deVente; and treasurer, Walton Burdick.

One of the busiest clubs in our high school is the Technical Club. Under the guidance of Mr. Richard Klett and Mr. James Longwell, this organization has achieved for itself a high name among school clubs. Its aims are to obtain a more complete conception of technology and industry and to promote fellowship among the students.

When no assembly is scheduled, thirty-four boys can be found anxiously awaiting a meeting. Special meetings are called whenever necessary by the officers: president, William Forde; vice-president, Robert Knapp; and secretary and treasurer, Jerry Wright.

A certain number of recreational and educational outings are provided yearly. This year, members have sponsored a dance and made trips through two of our great local industries, E.J. and The Forging Works. In June, the annual picnic is always anticipated. Another annual affair is their Alumni Night Dinner, honoring past members. If the boys wish, Thursday nights may be used for "Hobby Nights," when they work on their hobbies and compare ideas.

It is easy to see that the Technical Club is a very energetic group and one which will prosper.

Business students of U-E have the luck to have a Business Club or Commercial Club. Any student taking Business is eligible. The Club was organized under the direction of Miss Ruth Kniskern in 1935. Since then, because of the enthusiasm and interest of its members, the Commercial Club has been a huge success. Trips to various local spots of interest and industry are included in its activities each year. There are also various talks which enable the students to better understand the world of business.

From the Commercial Club will spring many excellent secretaries and women of business. U-E should be proud to include the Commercial Club in its extra-curricular activities.

As more girls continue on the road to college education, very few stay behind to study perhaps the greatest art of all—how to be a good housekeeper, wife, and mother. Undoubtedly, most high school girls will become housewives rather than career girls; and, as a result, U-E has set aside for such girls the Homemaking Club for the younger girls and Future Homemakers of America for the older girls.

These two clubs, under the direction of Miss Joan Abraham, meet Mondays, 5th period, in Room 14. Officers for the Homemaking Club are: Marjorie Mix, president; Jeannette Miner, vice-president; Wanda Smith, secretary; and Esther Grow, treasurer. In Future Homemakers of America, the officers are: Donna Van Wormer, president; Judy Mandyck, vice-president; Kay Wilson, secretary; and Esther McPherson, treasurer. Doris DuMond is Reporter for this group.

These girls have worked for, and have attained, school recognition in their various enterprises. They are very proud of their plans and club meetings and are hoping that they will make "tomorrow's perfect housekeepers and homemakers."

The activities of the Club during the past year really started in July when four members of the Club made a two-day cattle-judging trip through Delaware and Otsego counties, staying over night at the Delhi State School of Agriculture.

CREATIVE WRITING CLUB

Aspiring young journalists, would-be Emily Dickinsons, and some who simply state they're "interested in writing" . . . these make up the group which calls itself the Creative Writing Club. Although proud of the national honors bestowed upon them each year, its members do not write with a mercenary purpose in mind; their "creations" are inspired by the sheer joy of writing.

At each of their semi-monthly meetings, nearly every possible aspect of writing is discussed and explained. Short stories, essays, autobiographies, radio scripts and poetry have been especially stressed this year.

Last September, officers elected were: Mary Massi, president; Ellen Van Dusen, secretary; and Vaughn Reynolds, treasurer. Under their leadership, the club has continued its numerous and interesting activities.

U-E BLOCK DINNER

Principal Speaker—Col. Russell L. Reeder of West Point. Chairman and Toastmaster—Raymond Mills.

TRES CHARMANTE!

"GOOD MORNING"

U-E is indeed fortunate to be one of the few high schools in the nation having its own regular radio program. Anne Matusica and James Tait can be seen broadcasting the news of the week to early risers over Endicott's WENE.

"ISN'T THIS DELICIOUS PUNCH?"

Gay chatter is exchanged at the Christmas formal by Nan Hollenback, Robert Hosay, Norm Pickering, Janet Harris, Rudy Dinga, and Marlea Homa.

FACULTY TEA

With the Christmas tree as the center of attraction, homemaking classes gave a tea in honor of the faculty. Pictured are Miss Lesko, Miss Brookins, Miss Pierce, and Miss Mersereau.

NEW TALENT

Each September, according to custom, entering freshmen and sophomores must prove their worth before the entire student body. Shown here are entertainers Marylou Korcykoski, Lola Bates, Filomena Grassi, Charlotte Main, and William Dayton.

BANQUET COMMITTEE

A last minute check on plans for the January class' banquet is being done by Ray Mosteller, Joan Howell, Jane Forest, and Donna VanWormer.

"WHY DANCE NOW?"

Intermission at the "Snow-Ball" is enjoyed by these January Prom dancers at the punch bowl: Vera Kozেকে, Jane Forest, Barbara Register, Michael LaSorte, Carolyn Humphreys, and Robert Scalzo.

ALL U-E NIGHT

Climaxing a colorful evening, attendants and their escorts admire newly crowned queen, Sandra Stabler.

FUN FOR THE TINY TOTS

"THE DESERT SHALL REJOICE"

"ARSENIC AND OLD LACE"

The story of how two "sweet" old ladies were responsible for sending numerous old men to "rest" delighted the audience at the play presented by the June seniors.

KNEELING: Mary Frances Reardon.

SITTING: Frances Kissel, Jennie Caforio, Walton Burdick, Jerry Phelps.

STANDING: David Manchester, Thomas North, Harold Van-Auken, Richard Newton, William Schreiner, Stephen Nyschot, Joseph Laposky, John Buhay, William Shamulka.

WELCOME BACK

CHILD CARE PARTY

INTERESTING?

Business Management class views movie.

With Sandra Stabler in the title role, the January seniors presented this uproarious comedy early in December. The play will not be easily forgotten because of the fine acting of the cast and the splendid direction of Miss Barbara Thayer.

FAREWELL

And so our ship, laden with memories and dreams, sails toward the horizon . . . toward all the tomorrows to come. If our dreams in life are to be fulfilled, we must transform them into realities.

We shall be playing parts in the drama of civilization's struggle to survive. Headlines scream with words of destruction and death from every side, and we wonder if we shall be strong enough to conquer these unseen enemies who spread prejudice and hate. We look at the events of the last half-century and pray fervently that the next fifty years will awaken mankind to its dangers and its opportunities.

We add now our hopes and dreams to those of other years, trusting that we shall keep faith with the challenge before us.

Farewell! A word that must be, and hath been . . .
A sound which makes us linger;—yet—farewell!

Bryon

Tool of Freedom

The tools of Freedom are not easy to make—some of them take centuries of struggle to acquire.

Notable among freedom's tools is, of course, freedom of the press. Such freedom has required the eternal vigilance of free men ever since it was conceived . . . ever since it became an issue tied to the rights of men.

There is no greater obligation to society than that called for by the public trust which the conduct of a successful newspaper represents. By the same token, Democracy has no more powerful tool, no greater resource — than is symbolized by your newspaper as it serves the cause of freedom.
