JANUARY @ THE GFJ LIBRARY

Bulwarks of Main Street
by local historian Timothy Main

Historian Tim Main will present his “Bulwarks of Main Street” talk at GFJ on Tuesday, January 12 at 7 PM in our Scott (basement) Meeting Room. Tim bills this as “A fascinating trip through time to visit some of the Union District’s most beautiful and enduring homes.” His talks always come with lots of photos, insight and humor.

Don’t miss it!

Watercolor Basics Class with Richard Henry.
Fridays, 10-12 January 15—February 12, in the downstairs meeting room of the library.

Registration is required and will begin December 1, at the Adult Information Desk. The class is free, but there is a $5.00 supply fee that must be paid at registration. Learn from the ground up how to paint watercolor using proven methods. Learn the basic wash techniques and unlock the mystery of making colors.

This class is geared for beginners. Sign-up today!

The AARP Tax preparers will begin the first week in February on Tuesdays and Thursdays, 10-2 in the upstairs meeting room of the Library. Walk-ins only. Please note: there will be limited Federal and State tax forms this year. Forms can be printed at the Adult Information Desk for $.15 per page.

BARK-9 Dogs will be at the library on Saturday, January 16, 10-12 in the Youth Services Dept. Read a favorite book to a favorite dog!

GFJ Book Club: Next meeting will be Wednesday, January 27 from 1-2 in the upstairs meeting room. We will be discussing The Boston Girl by Anita Diamant.
