TREASURES

I think I have the Midas touch,
For, as I bring to mind
Each separate U-E memory,
It turns to gold, I find.

As I recall each well-known face,
Each friend I knew in school,
Time has sifted out the flaws
And left a shining jewel.

There must have been unpleasant times:
—When homework was not done;
—When teachers seemed unreasonable;
—When Central High School won.

But these seem faded, now, and dim,
While in my treasure chest
Lie untarnished memories
Of days I loved the best.

A U-E MAPLE

THE U-E THESAURUS

"The riches of a king!" What enchantment lies in that phrase; what visions it conjures—icy diamonds, shimmering like stars; red rubies, glowing as the last embers of a dying fire; sapphires, blue as the still waters of the Aegean; ancient urns golden as the chariot of Apollo. All these spread before us in dazzling array!

But earthly riches are so fleeting. They cannot heal a heart distressed, nor restore a moment once pleasing, nor compensate for unbearable loss. There are other riches more precious than these—the wealth of memories. These are the treasures we place in our treasure house, the memories of our high school days, and the tangible associations that will always remain so dear.

For diamonds, we have our friendships, more shining and true than any sparkling gem. For rubies, we have the poignant, the gay, the exciting, the challenging events we have watched these past four years. For sapphires, we have the echoes of voices praising, scolding, teasing, laughing. For gold, we have the memories of the faculty, whose kindnesses and ever-ready helpfulness no passage of time can ever dim.

This is the wealth we place in our treasure house, the sole wealth that can never be lost or taken from us. May those future classes to whom we leave the "U-E Thesaurus" have as unending a store of treasures as we have.

"Our best thoughts come from others."

HERBERT H. CRUMB
Superintendent of Schools

Mr. Crumb, our superintendent, has the unique distinction of being the first to fill that position in this school system. He holds also another unique distinction, that of being interested in and knowing almost each and every pupil. His personal interest endears him to all.

MISS MARY L. PITKIN
Principal

To Miss Pitkin, principal of Union-Endicott High School, goes our deep appreciation for her ready sympathy, her fairness in decisions, her understanding of others' problems. We shall always value her friendship.

MR. DEWITT S. WOODARD
Associate Principal

Mr. Woodard came to U-E this year from Henry B. Endicott School as our new associate principal. For this one year, he has already found a place in our memories of U-E as a conscientious and fair arbiter of attendance problems.

SENIOR HONOR ROLL CEREMONY

The Union-Endicott annual candlelight ceremony, inaugurated in 1944, is held every spring to honor the graduates of our June senior class who have achieved high honor marks through their four years of high school. Each graduate, robed in the orange and black cap and gown, is escorted to the stage by an honor student of the junior class. Coming upon the stage in two rows on each side, they proceed to the center of the stage and wait quietly until everyone is in his or her position. The scene which follows creates a marked impression which will linger in our hearts for years to come. As each honored graduate's name is read, he or she comes to the center of the stage and from the table, there, takes a candle and lights it from the large center candle on the table. After this procedure, symbolizing the light of knowledge and wisdom of the world, each of the graduates is further honored by being permitted to inscribe his name on the permanent record of high scholastic achievement. The names are inscribed in order according to the averages, which must be above eighty-nine and one-half per cent. The auditorium is dimmed and the audience is hushed, thus creating the atmosphere for our traditional Candle-lighting Ceremony in which we honor our seniors who are reaching for success through sustained effort, resulting in high scholastic achievement.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The purposes of this council are: 1. To create better cooperation and promote a closer relationship between the students and faculty. 2. To promote the general welfare of the school. 3. To inspire better citizenship. This council is made up of representatives of the four classes and recognized clubs.

The Student Council sponsors most of the fund-raising drives of the school. It acts as an executive committee to carry through proposals for school betterment brought up by the Advisory Council and the faculty. The council also sponsors an annual dance in honor of the basketball team.

The Student Council is a member of the Southern Tier Association of Student Councils. The elected officers for this year are: President, Michael Cardone; Vice-President, Marilyn Lewis; Secretary, Mary Janecek; Treasurer, Robert Rodgers; Reporter, June Ann Lyons.

The advisor of the council is Mr. Harold Hyde.

Front Row: Norma Battaglini, Mary Janecek, June Ann Lyons, Janice Bowen, La Verna Dodge, Marilyn Lewis.
Back Row: Karl Spencer, Michael Cardone, Herbert Kline, George Bachura, Robert Conti, Robert Rodgers.
Not Present: Lois Dunn, Gale Tymeson.

ADVISORY COUNCIL

The purpose of this organization is to enable the Student Council to obtain the suggestions and opinions of the students concerning student legislation and to inform all students more frequently about the activities of the Student Council.

This council consists of a chairman from each home room and the regular members of the Student Council.

The officers are the president and secretary of the Student Council, Michael Cardone and Mary Janecek.

The advisor of this council is Mr. Harold Hyde.

First Row: Mary Janecek, Dorothy Ann Packard, Mary Sulich, Josephine Matolka, Billie Wildow, Irene Lisack, Mary Carman, Carol Jane Compton, Marilyn Allen, Janice Bowen.

Second Row: Ethyl Galgocy, Barbara Cook, Helen Sirucka, June Ann Lyons, Louise White, Lois Sackett, Elizabeth Jessup, Marilyn Lewis, Norma Battaglini, La Verna Dodge.

Third Row: Bruce Taylor, Robert Rodgers, Raymond Alderman, Donald Blackwell, Jack Budd, Michael Cardone, Karl Spencer, James Sweet, Louis Laburdi.

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB

The purposes of this organization are: 1. To encourage high scholarship. 2. To become acquainted with business interests of the community. 3. To broaden pupils' knowledge of business. Executives and employees of different fields of business are invited to speak at the meeting. Such people acquaint the members of the club with the duties and qualifications of different jobs represented.

In normal times the club visits the banks, the offices of the Endicott-Johnson Company and the International Business Machines Corporation to acquaint members with the business transactions of these different companies.

This club gives cash prizes for the two highest business averages each year, thus encouraging students to attain high scholarship averages. The elected officers of this year are: President, Irene Wanechek; Vice-President, La Verna Dodge; Secretary, Phyllis Arnold; Treasurer, Billie Wildow. Miss Ruth Kniskern is the advisor of this club.

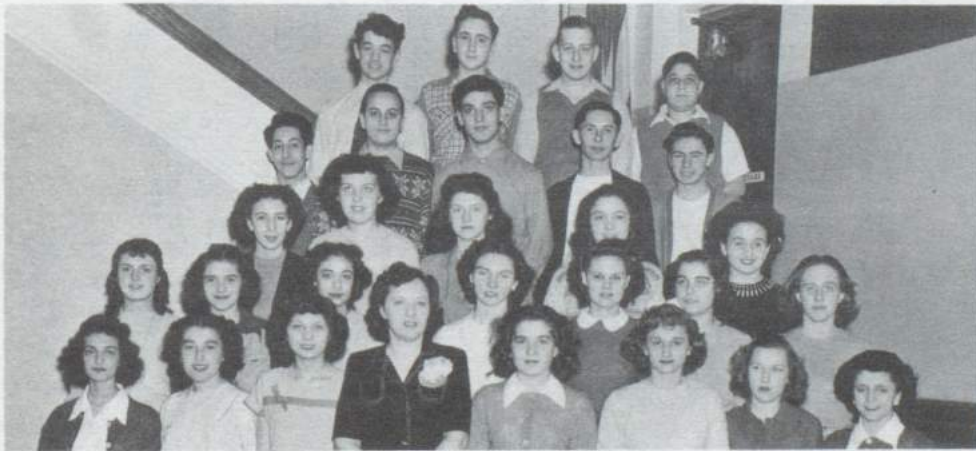

Front Row: Sally Melazzo, Marion Smith, Billie Wildow, Irene Wanechek, La Verna Dodge, Phyllis Arnold, Frances Popular, Beverly Wheeler.

ITALIAN CLUB

The Italian Club was first formed in U-E in the year 1933. In 1943 it was reorganized under the supervision of Mrs. McCarthy, who is its present day advisor. Among activities of the club of the past year were the presentation of the play, "Agenore L. Indeciso," dances, social events and an annual picnic at Lily Lake in June. The Italian Club has 35 members. Plans are under way for another play this year. The officers are: Theresa Colonna, president; Isabelle Springer, vice-president; Dolores Isabella, secretary; and William Smith, treasurer.

First Row: Mary Ann Ferrari, Dolores Petrilli, Rita Bottino, Mrs. McCarthy, Mary Pozzi, Josephine Matolka, Mary Lou Crane, Phil Rano.

Second Row: Angelina Antonelli, Amelia Del Braco, Francis Recchia, Inez Nogaret, Genevieve Zareski, Irene Smarz, Shirley Mitchell.

Other Members: Josephine Bottino, Theresa Colonna, Edith Dellapenta.

THESAURUS EDITORS

The Editors and Associate Editors of the Thesaurus staff, standing, are Donna Croman, Willard Gow, Michael Cardone, Donald Mastro; seated are Anne Forde, Kathleen Kavanagh, Louise White, Mary Rita Saxton, Martha McManis.

This year marks the initial publication of our yearbook, the U-E Thesaurus. A movement to have a yearbook at U-E began in the fall. After this was approved, a staff of those interested in working on the yearbook was formed. Later, part of the staff of the Tiger was added to this group. This Thesaurus staff, with advisors from the faculty, have worked to produce U-E's first yearbook.

COUNTING THE VOTES FOR THE NAME

A representative group from different school organizations, counting votes for the name of the new venture, the yearbook.

The name "Thesaurus," submitted by Mike Cardone, won first place and gained for Mike the five dollar award offered by the "Tiger" for the name of its sister publication.

THESAURUS BUSINESS STAFF

THE U-E "TIGER" LITERARY STAFF

The U-E "Tiger" made its debut in the "take-off" issue of 1933, with John Irwin as editor and Harvey Travis as assistant editor. In 1938, the "Tiger" received the Quill and Scroll first place international award. Again in 1942, the "Tiger" was presented an award, this time second place by the Columbia Press Association. During the war years, the "Tiger" sponsored several drives, concluding these activities with the 8th War Bond Drive which enabled U-E to purchase three hospital units at Camp Shanks, New York.

Under Mrs. Finch, advisor for the literary staff, and Miss Hollister, advisor for the business and art staffs, two issues of the "Tiger" were published this year. For the first time, the "Tiger" had a junior staff, comprising those sophomores interested in journalism. The staff of the "Tiger" did much of the work assembling the "Thesaurus," as well as sponsoring the contest from which the name of the yearbook was selected.

Editors: Mary Rita Saxton, Louise White.

U-E "TIGER" BUSINESS AND ART STAFF

Art Staff: Lillian Skumanich (Editor), Norma Carmon, Eileen Mack, Dawn Rutan.

Business Staff: Elaine Biseo, Gloria Chatchew, Eleanor Hickey.

Circulation Staff: Marjorie Argust (Manager), Mary Jo Bousquet, Margery Wilkins.

BOWLING TEAM

The first team included this year Joseph Prosch, Herbert Kline, William Reynolds, Leonard Fontana, Robert Emerson, Lawrence Welch, and John Hudcovich. Walter Janowski, Harold Rought, Willard Davis, Charles Brown, Raymond Rounds, James Splain, James Randesi, and Sam Bobier made up the second team.

U-E's "Hi Club" bowling teams competed with the neighboring high schools in both the varsity and jayvee brackets. U-E finished in third place, one game behind J.C. They also rolled Norwich at home and away. Their home matches were held at the K. of C. alleys.

RIFLE CLUB

Back Row: James McPherson, Angelo Giordano, Robert Murphy, Clarence Plummer, Richard O'Hara.

The Rifle Club, under the direction of Captain Carlton Popple of the Endicott Police Department, uses the I.B.M. rifle range each Thursday. Officers: President, Richard Taylor; Vice-President, James McPherson; Secretary-Treasurer, Wayne Myers.

TRI-HI OFFICERS

Left to Right: Phyllis Musa, Treasurer; Jacqueline Atwood, Reporter; Jane Cook, Vice-President; Dolores Battaglini, President; Shirley Bingaman, Secretary.

Under the supervision of Miss Gladys Mersereau, since its organization in 1931, the Tri-Hi Club has been successful in numerous activities.

The 204 members this year have had charge of sport dances, annual Christmas formal and Spring formal and a carnival. The annual "All U-E Night Dance" was sponsored by the Tri-Hi and Hi Clubs. Some girls formed a bowling group under the direction of Miss Marguerite Walters.

The girls have also taken an active interest in community affairs by selling forget-me-nots for Veterans of Foreign Wars, and helping in Red Cross drives. They packed 25 boxes which were sent to European children for the World Christmas Festival.

Annual graduation prizes are usually given for French. The club has cooperated in giving a donation toward the orange plaque in memory of the boys in service.

GIRLS' BOWLING TEAM

Standing: Donna Croman, Shirley Croman, Dorothy Hoppes, Alice Sprague, Caroline Shaffer.
Seated: Joan Endres, Elaine Biseo, Madeline Anderson, Dorothy Jenner, Edythe Scales.

THE QUEEN AND HER ATTENDANTS

The queen, her ladies-in-waiting, and their attendants of the All U-E Night dance sponsored by the Tri-Hi and the Hi Clubs.

Girls: Patricia Roach, Mary Moss, Mary Citrak, Lois Banks, Arlene Knickerbocker (queen of 1944), Shirley Bingaman (queen of 1945), Patricia Rodgers, Phyllis Musa, Elizabeth Jessup, Dolores Battaglini, Barbara Bennett, Muriel Adams.

THE CROWNING OF THE QUEEN

CREATIVE WRITING CLUB

Front Row: Ann Bierly, Marilyn Allen, Eugene Wright, Mrs. Finch, Barbara Perl, Anne Forde, Martha McManis, Vivien Curry.

Back Row: Mary Rita Saxton, Donna Croman, Beatrice Bates, Goode Cheatham, Paul Brewer, Fannie Longo, Veronica Mekucky, Patricia Lane, Carol Jean Compton.

Other members are: Janet Andrews, Lillian Skumanich, Donald Stout, Edward Watson, Louise White.

A new high school club has had its initial start this year. All pupils, who either had articles accepted in the Creative Writing contest last year, or those who were especially interested in writing and were recommended by a teacher, or by the quality of articles submitted, have been eligible for membership.

The group has met with Mrs. Finch, every two weeks since October 15, to discuss various types of writing. At the various meetings, around thirty different pupils have been enrolled, even though not all have been able to attend every meeting.

The interest in creative work of all types has been high and material of various types has been discussed and submitted.

Officers at the present are: President, Barbara Perl; Vice-President, Eugene Wright; Secretary, Anne Forde; Treasurer, Goode Cheatham.

A constitution has been drawn up and pins selected.

LIBRARY CLUB

The members of the U-E Library Club are a selected group of students chosen because of aptitudes, interest and scholarship.

Each person must indicate a willingness to render valuable service to the school, the library and the librarian. In return for this service, the club member gains an intimacy with the library, plus an understanding of how to use the various resources in connection with all studies. This knowledge has a definite carry-over value to public and college libraries.

The members of the club must be reliable, efficient, resourceful, enthusiastic and patient. They help maintain a library atmosphere and do much toward creating a proper attitude among the members of the student body.

The following members compose the 1945-46 U-E Library Club.

Anna George—President
Irene Babuka—Vice-President
June De Gues—Secretary
Lois Colly—Treasurer

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

Front Row: Michael Huda, Benjamin Surovy, Loren Wage, Norman Pickert, LeRoy Jackson, Floyd Mosher, Joseph Murphy, Robert Kennicutt, Clyde Avery.

The F.F.A. or Future Farmers of America is a club composed of boys taking vocational agriculture. The local F.F.A., the Aggies of U-E, is just one of over three hundred chapters in New York State. The New York State F.F.A., with the other forty-seven state organizations plus the Philippine Islands and Puerto Rico, make up the National F.F.A.

The purpose of the F.F.A. is to teach boys leadership and cooperation as farmers. The clubs compete in farming projects, judging and speaking contests, and athletics.

The officers elected by the club to carry on their business are as follows: President, Richard Day; Vice-President, Eugene E. Wright; Secretary, Benjamin Surovy; Treasurer, Roger Norton and later Herbert Yoder; Reporter, Howard Hopkins; Farm Watch Dog, Joseph Murphy; Advisor, Mr. Henry C. White.

ORCHESTRA

The orchestra has worked hard this year and has accomplished much under the leadership of Mr. R. Crawford Stahl. As every year, they played for most of our assemblies, for both senior plays, and for both graduation and Baccalaureate services. This year they also played at one of the Civic Forum lectures and took part in the Spring Instrumental Concert.

The orchestra was started about 1920, under the leadership of Mr. Thomas L. Gillespie. In 1937 it first received regents credit.

Other directors have been Mr. John Gleason, Mr. Sidney Bouck, Mr. Kenneth Randall, and Miss Marion Luther.

The members are: VIOLINS—Shirley Bingaman, Joseph Sullivan, Norma Carmon, Janice Woodard, Jeanne Story, Lucile Chura, Virginia Ogden, Mary Lou Crane, Grace Hulslander, Roberta Collett, Catherine Chomack, Leo Rosenfeld. GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club was divided into two groups this year, one for the girls and one for the boys. The latter, while still a small organization, has hopes of becoming an integral part of the music program at U-E. Both groups have participated in numerous assembly programs and in the annual spring concert. Various small groups, chosen from members of these organizations, have appeared at local clubs throughout the year.

ATHLETIC ADVISORY BOARD

Mr. Cobb, George Cardone, Miss Pitkin, Rose Greco, Mr. Crumb, Donald Mastro, Miss Smith, Mr. Forbes, Mary Janecek.

When the Athletic Advisory Board met this year, it included two new junior members as well as the two senior students and regular members. This latter group includes our superintendent, principal, two athletic directors, and another member of the faculty.

The group meets and discusses any and all problems which pertain to athletics. It has charge of the upkeep of the football field, baseball diamond, race track and gymnasiums, and all sport supplies of the school. It buys all necessary equipment for both girls' and boys' sports.

The Athletic Council also awards students their letters, numerals, sweaters, small golden footballs and basketballs.

1945 TRACK TEAM

Front Row: D. Herbaugh, J. Lupo, J. Cunningham, G. Robinson, R. Brown (Captain), H. Oliphant, W. Gow, C. Harris, J. Polisensky.

Second Row: Assistant Coach M. Hamilton, D. Robinson, H. Mohny, J. Wilson, D. Chatrnuck, C. George, Coach R. Friderick.

In the spring of 1945, Union-Endicott was again represented in track with a successful team. With dual victories over North and Central, and a loss by four points to J.C., they came through winners of the Triple Cities meet and, a second time, custodians of the Binghamton Press trophy. Outstanding performers were Frank La Sorte in the pole vault and broad jump, and John Lupo in the mile race.

CROSS COUNTRY

First Row: Otto Polisensky, Donald Bradley, John Lupo, Harold Oliphant, James Cunningham.

Second Row: Coach Henry C. White, Jack Lozzi, John Fiorini, Robert Conti, Mario Lozzi, Dominick Rossi.

Cross country running, now in its third year, is rapidly becoming one of U-E's important sports. The orange-clad harriers, under the supervision of Coach Henry C. White, former Syracuse running star, carried the U-E colors into seven races and came through successfully.

Although they received no letters for their efforts, the boys did their best and never failed to acquit themselves with distinction.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

First Row: Don Mastro, Dick Marino, Bob Musa, Joe Scordino, Bob Cook.

CHEER LEADERS

Second Row: Bill Gow, Doris Friedli, Almondo Fiori, Barbara Bennett, Mary Moss, Tony Valek.
First Row: Frieda Senio, Anne Marie Crane, Antoinette Salamida.

It has been the tradition that the U-E cheering squad, with a military style of cheering all its own, be one of the best squads in the triple cities. This year has been no exception. The squad looked especially well this year because of the new uniforms given the girls last fall by the athletic board.

The squad consists of nine cheerleaders, six girls and three boys. It is supervised by George "Spud" Forbes, who is a member of the science department and an assistant coach in football. Each year three girls and one or two boys, as the case may be, are selected from a large competing sophomore group to represent their school as cheerleaders with the remaining three girls and one or two boys left from the squad the previous year. They must cheer at both football and basketball games for two years before they are awarded their school letters.

JUNIOR VARSITY

First Row: Richard Mandyck, Anthony Quaranta, John Homa, Henry Harris, Albert Stenburg.
Second Row: James Gimmie, Renaldo Paparella, Joseph Grassi, Rodney Galough, James Guccia, John Dinga.

BASKETBALL

U-E's basketball team, christened the "Hurricanes," won distinction this season. After losing two games in the first half, the Hurricanes went the rest of the season undefeated with a nineteen-game winning streak. They played off North High School on the Johnson City court and won handily, clinching the Southern Tier Championship for two years straight.

MANAGERS—GIRLS' SPORTS

Standing: Theresa Colonna,
Fannie Longo, Virginia Lozzi.
Sitting: Rita Gimmie, Miss
Kirtland, Miss Coles.

Girls start their sport seasons with hockey, an outdoor sport. The competition is keen for one must not only be quick-witted but fast. Volley ball was ended with a play-day at U-E. Vestal and Newark Valley were our competitors this year. Basketball is next in line. The squad chosen at the end of the season plays other schools. Track and baseball are more outdoor sports. They are combined in one season. Besides these general sports, girls participate in ping pong, archery, tumbling, and badminton. Although the girls' sports aren't as spectacular as the boys', they are equally interesting and beneficial.

TUMBLING

Off Mat: Angelina Erlich, Dolores Mietus, Irene Novak, Norma Carmon.

On Mat: Anna Kotek, Janet Harder, Mary Carman, Frieda Senio, Betty Harder, Antonette D'Aloisio, Nellie Deak.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

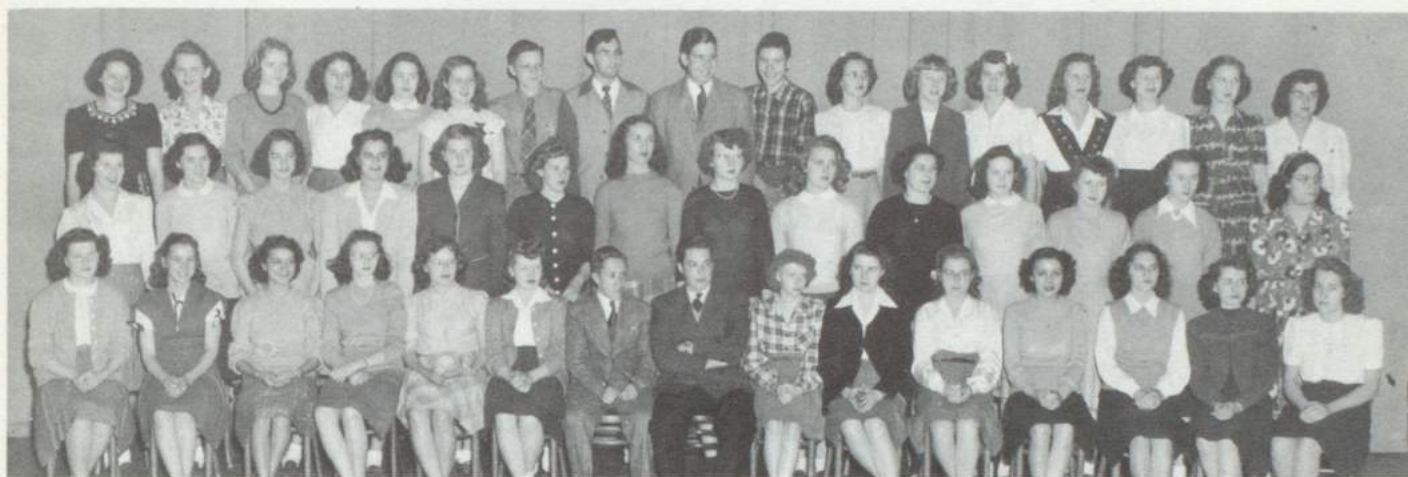

As you Latin students probably know, the word junior comes from a word meaning younger in contrast to senior, which means older. For us in third year high school, this is a fitting name because we are from 15 to 17 years of age and although we have almost completed our secondary education, we are not quite as mature as the seniors, although some would deny this vigorously.

Juniors probably are the backbone of the most of the school's activities. As illustrated in football band, Juniors usually are good marchers and players but, unlike the Seniors, can be counted on to serve one more year. They are also useful for training the new members in the fundamentals of marching. As illustrated in football, how exultant we feel to realize that a spectacular new star will still be with us another season! Basketball and other sports can also testify to this.

Now, we are at a very impressionable age. Here in school, we are absorbing ideas which will remain with us into maturity. We are grateful to the teachers for helping us to use our minds and acquire the viewpoint of citizens in this great nation. We, as citizens of tomorrow, must make this world a world of truly lasting peace.

In this year I of the Atomic Era, we, the future scientists, teachers, doctors, engineers, workers and, the most important of all, parents, must strive to make this world better than when we came into it. This is the duty of every individual in the world. With God helping us, we will succeed.

SOPHOMORE HONOR STUDENTS

A group of sophomores whose names have appeared at least once during the year on the honor roll.

Arlene Alderman, Jacqueline Atwood, Helen Baker, Robert Barno, James Barton, Beatrice Bates, Joan Bennett, Marion Bloom, Delores Brown, Arthur Bruwazlum, Sybil Chatham, Norma Cochran, Carol Compton, Elain Conklin, Robert Conti, Marlene Covert, Donna Croman, Lois Dunn, Betty Jean Eldridge, Mary Fagnoli, Lydia Fedones, Janet Forbes, Erwin Goldberg, Barbara Hammond, Constance Keritner, Carolyn Kjelgaard, Anna Kotek, Mary June Kucera, Patricia Lane, Walter Leahy, June Messersmith, Virginia Ogden, Viola Olmetti, Dorothy Anne Packard, Pauline Philip, Marjorie Robinson, Margaret Salata, Elaine Sentesi, Barbara Silvernail, Alice Sprague, Shirley Stamm, Marjorie Tritschler, Lillian Uhrinec, Beverly Wayda, Delores Whitaker, Billie Wildow, Mary Wright.

The number of sophomores here in U-E is four hundred and fifty-two—two hundred and fourteen boys and two hundred and thirty-eight girls, as of September, 1945.

The sophomores this year are very active in sports and the various clubs here about school. Sixty-five girls went out for basketball. Moreover, sophomores are represented on the Junior Varsity basketball team by Jerome Clune, Harold Durfee, Richard Mandyck, Andrew Sepelak and Paul Yurko. Among the boys on our Junior Varsity football team there are three sophomores: Joseph Grassi, James Guccia, and Renaldo Paparella. Those sophomores on the Varsity football team who helped give us some great games this year are Caesar George and Russell Wheatley.

The sophomore lads who like speed are Donald Bradley, John Fiorini, Mario Lozzi, Otto Polisenky and Dominick Rossi, all out for cross country.

In the group of sophomore girls who concentrate on exercise we find Joan Bennett, Lucille Chura, and Sybil Chatham walking away with cheering honors.

Sophomores can be seen at any meeting of the Student Council, Tiger staff, Yearbook staff, Commercial Club, Tri-Hi Club, Hi Club, Creative Writing Club, Italian Club and at the musical rehearsals of Glee Club and A Cappella.

ENGLISH PLAQUE WINNERS

Rarely, if ever before, has a sophomore home room achieved the highest average in English for any ten-week period. During the fall term, Miss Alderson's home room girls distinguished themselves in this way.

FRESHMAN GIRLS

Front Row: Marilee Kramer, Mary Ella Moore, Mary Lippolis, Lorna Walker, Jean Whipple, Mildred Deliman, Marguerite Powell, Kathleen Kavanagh, Dawn Storm, Betty Lindsey.

Second Row: Rita Goldberg, Anna Gianfrate, Teresa Polak, Agnes Clark, Dorothy Emerson, Geraldine Occhiato, Nancy Maney, Lucy Warren, Roberta Painter.

Third Row: Marjorie Coolidge, Eleanor Hickey, Mary Ellen Lane, Wilma Peters, Joan Howell, Emmie Norton, Dawn Mazarine, Nellie Baxter, Virginia Zeigler, Barbara Jones, Gloria Chatchew.

Girls not included in the picture are: Rose Marie Di Tota, Joyce Nichols, Zita O'Hara.

OUR FRESHMEN

This group of freshmen was impressed by the many library facilities, school equipment, interesting assemblies and the chance to participate in the various active sports. U-E hopes these first impressions will be lasting. Most of the freshman boys and girls are interested in the wide field of music and sports opportunities that U-E offers.

FRESHMAN BOYS

Second Row: Donald Atwood, Robert Cerwonka, Dean McLain, Albert Roberts, Royal Bowen, Stanley Binkewicz, Bruce McCoy, John Barno, John Hills.

CREATIVE CLUB CONTEST WINNERS

The "Scholastic Magazine" has, for a number of years, sponsored a nation-wide student contest in writing and art.

For the last two years, the Creative Writing movement has been further aided locally by Mrs. Charles F. Johnson and Mrs. Charles A. Kirk, who have aroused interest in student creative ability and have secured judges and prizes for our section of the state. Through reprinting in brochure form all the student articles awarded prizes or honorable mention in the contest, and through prizes for each upper grade of school and each type of writing, much encouragement has been given student efforts.

The following students have brought honor to U-E this year through having articles given first or second awards or through having received honorable mention:

Front Row: Helen Ball, Doris Friedi, Mary Sulich, Jeanne Custer, Michael Rotondi, Marilyn Allen, Douglas Clark, Georgianna Ciccirelli, Kathleen Kavanagh, Mary Rita Saxton, Joyce Fox, Joan McConnell.

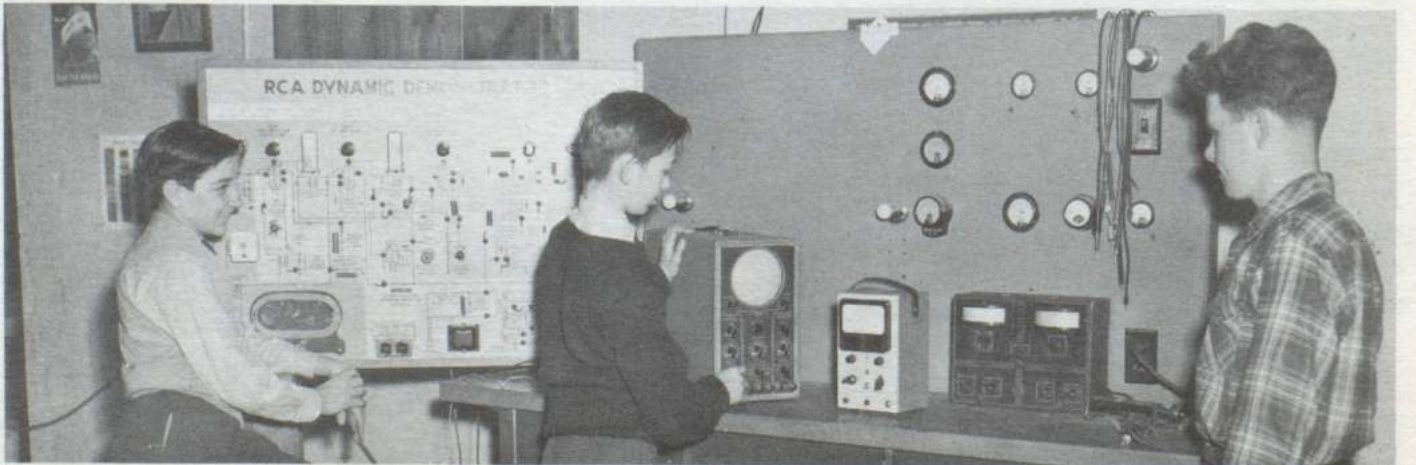

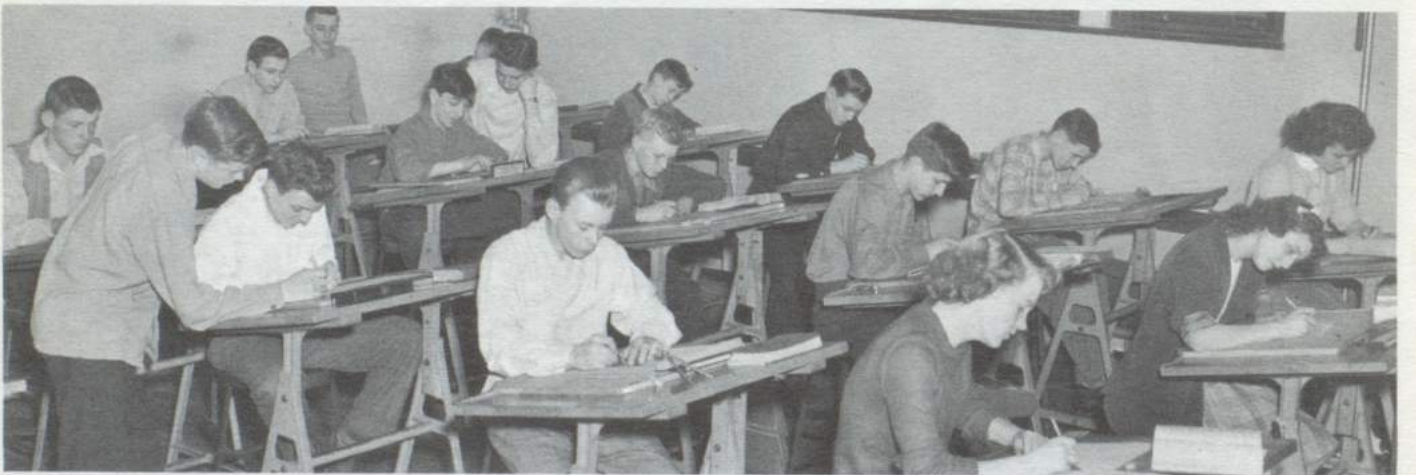

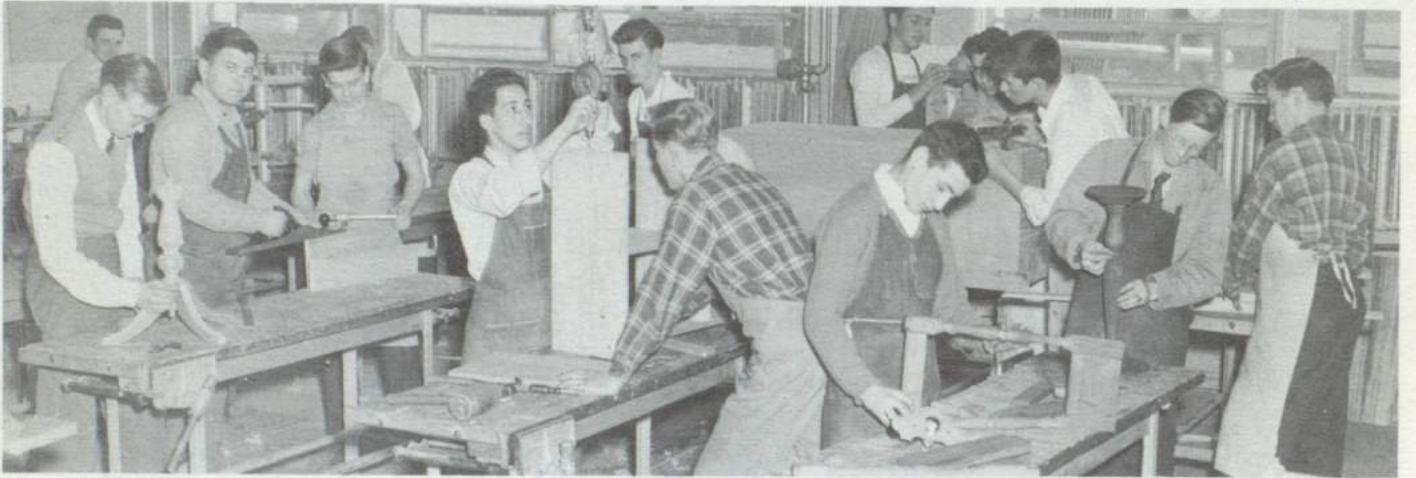

Second Row: Gerald Fitch, Sheldon Axworthy, Juanita Zimmer, Helen Zigar, Betty Jane MacDonald, Elizabeth Sipko, Veronica Mekucky, Alice Sprague, Anna Kotek, Elaine Bonazzi, Janice Woodard, Victor Hesse, Edward Isban, William Strusz.

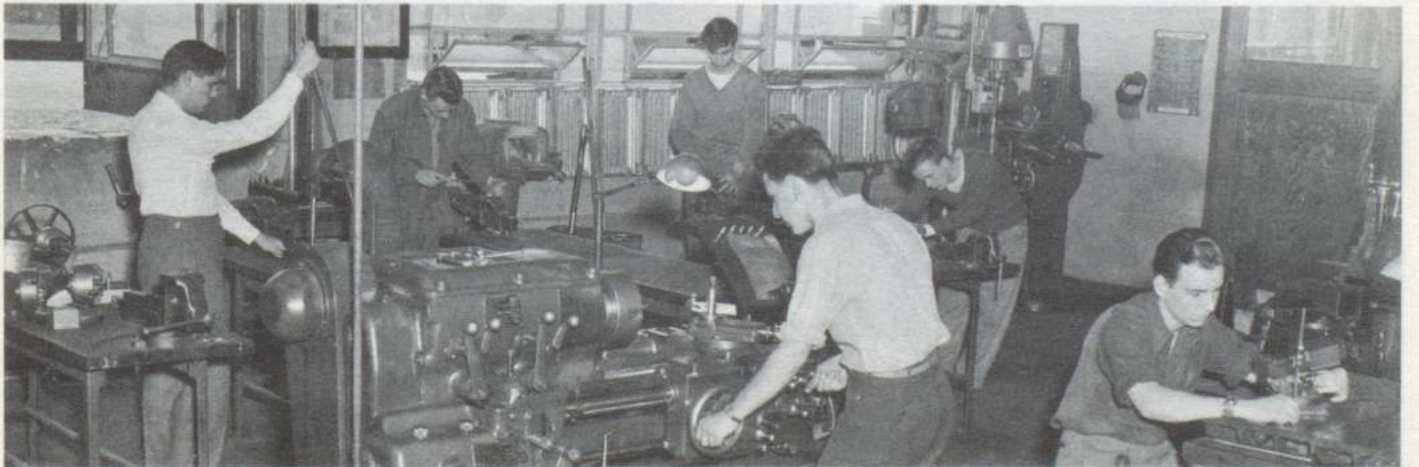

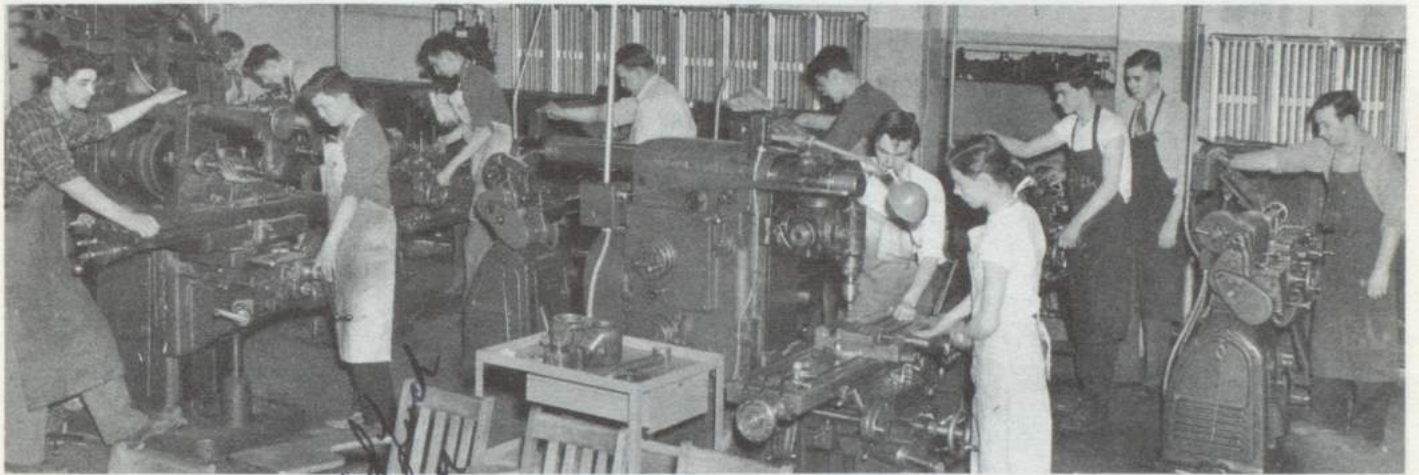

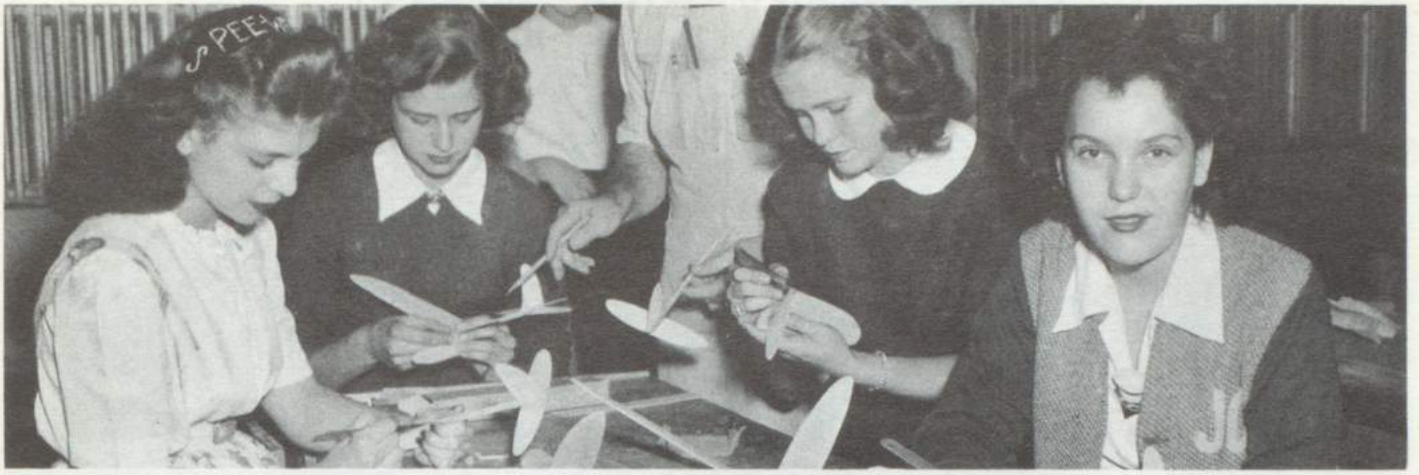

Back Row: Warren Ames, Shirley Croman, Ruth Starr, Edith Scales, John Eggleston, Louise White, Charles DeVente, Norma Mae Allen, Eugene Wright, Anne Forde, Vivien Curry, David McLain.

Absent when the picture was taken: Carol Compton.

A CORNER OF THE VETERANS' HOME ROOM

John Fedorko, Peter Hudanich, Leonard Dellepenta, George Homa, John Ciesla.

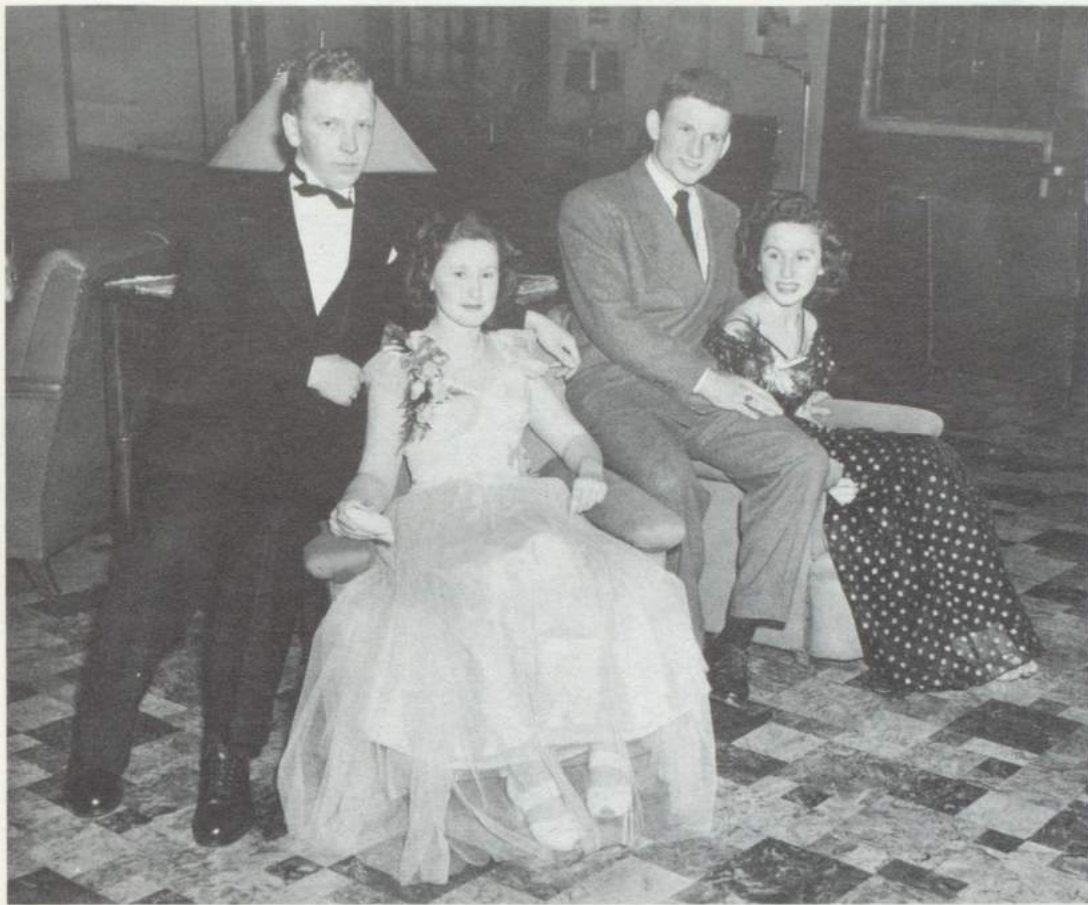

As the yearbook goes to press, room 13 is a very popular place, with 55 veterans making it their home room. The number varies, usually increasing. Most of them expect to be graduated this June.

Most People are just Every-Day Folks—

People's likes and dislikes are, as a rule, not too far apart. Most people like a newspaper best if it gives all the news, local, national and international; if it devotes a part of its space to features of universal appeal and if it arranges its news, feature and advertising content so that regularly each day the same departments are relatively in the same location.

These are just a few of the many reasons why The Binghamton Press finds ready acceptance in the homes of the territory it serves. The rest can be summed up in one phrase—"It is the constant aim of The Binghamton Press management to produce a newspaper which is 'tops' in everything which a good newspaper should contain."
