FOREWORD

In his struggle against the powers of the natural, the supernatural, and the tyrannies of his brothers, man has relied, to a great extent, on his ability to think. The giants of history—Cicero, Charlemagne, Newton, and Michelangelo—although remembered in different fields, all used the same basic technique for achieving success. They all liked to think; they all enjoyed to dream; and they all dared to express and carry out new ideas.

Man decides his own life, and with this freedom of choice comes a responsibility to choose in terms of ideas and to progress and contribute in terms of thought and action.

Some men will try to shrug their responsibility by saying that there are no new frontiers to explore, and no new ideas to be found. They speak of pioneering as something of the past, and proclaim that the best ideas have already been presented. But in doing this, they forget that the greatest adventure of all still challenges us—the adventure of the human mind. From this tiny organ has evolved the greatest cities in the world, the most complex of machines, and the most potent of drugs to save lives.

In this world of ideas, there is always pioneering to be done. Life awaits us eagerly! And with it awaits a challenge that can result in world destruction, or carry us to a modern world of gadgets and comfort that will exceed even our wildest dreams. The challenge is ours, and it can be met by anyone who will use the facilities with which he is endowed.

MESSAGES TO THE CLASS OF 1962

Approximately one hundred and seventy-five years ago a group of delegates met to prepare a more effective form of government for the States which had declared their independence from England. From the deliberations and debates of these leaders was wrought the Constitution of the United States whose preamble made clear the importance attached to the establishment of justice, the promoting of the general welfare and the securing of the "blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

This Constitution, which is the cornerstone of our own individual liberties and which has served and will continue to serve us for many years, is the fruit of centuries of man's experiences and ideas. To many of us, our Constitution is an excellent example of the truth of the adage—"Only those who build on ideas, build for eternity."

Just as each generation of men and women has succeeded in using new ideas to make advances in government and in all phases of life, so now it rests with my generation and with yours to stride forward in the humanities, in the sciences, in all disciplines. There is an urgent need for alert, creative minds to meet the challenge of the problems facing us today—especially the challenge of discovering ways and means to lasting world peace.

May God be with you as you, the members of the Class of 1962, assume the responsibilities of your time.

Robert D. Agone
Superintendent of Schools

Ideas result from thinking.

To be a human being means to be a creature of thoughts, of ideas. Since such is the very nature of human beings, one can argue that formal education as you have received at U-E is not necessary for an individual to be able to think and to produce ideas. Yet, the local and world challenges of today demand ideas of greater scope and quality than ever before if we are to conceive, preserve, and extend the all important human values of a truly free society.

The ideas needed for the future freedoms of the individual in a world of peace and sanity must transcend all forms of bigotry.

The Board of Education hopes that each member of the Class of 1962 has taken full advantage of the greatest benefits offered within public schools, the most democratic of educational institutions, so that you are better prepared to produce the quality ideas needed for tomorrow.

The highest hopes to date for the future rest with the leadership your generation will provide tomorrow. Best wishes and good luck.

Mario F. George
President, Board of Education

Mr. Bortnick keeps his conscientious secretary, Miss Brainerd, busy.

PRINCIPAL

... We have had a fine year at U-E and you, the Senior Class, are to be commended for quality achievement, distinguished honors and notable accomplishments.

Many of you now realize that the end of high school is only the beginning of a fine and wonderful experience.

We, at U-E, will remember you and trust, that in some small way, we have made a contribution.

As you reach for higher and better things in life, remember the theme of your Yearbook, Those Who Build on Ideas Build for Eternity.

Mr. Bortnick, at his desk, discusses school affairs.

SENIOR CLASS

This year's senior class was the brightest and most active in many years. The intellectual and athletic heights achieved by the upper class were something to be proud of and an inspiration to the underclassmen. The high number of Regents scholarships attested to their intellectual capacity and hard work. Many seniors also engaged in extra-curricular activities such as football, track, Debate Club, Student Government, and journalism.

Many awards in music, art, and literature were awarded to our seniors in the course of their high school career. Their prowess on the athletic field was displayed by the basketball team in their final weeks and by the wrestling and track teams which made an enviable record for themselves.

The ideas which emanated from the 1962 Class have found a lasting place at U-E. The memory of them will linger for several years to come and should be an abiding inspiration to the classes to follow.

JUNIOR CLASS

The Junior Class of 1962 has much to offer to U-E and the world. Its ideas have found a great deal of expression in the short time they have been in high school. Many high places have been earned by the Juniors in both the clubs and teams of U-E. In a relatively short time they have shown themselves to be the leaders of the future.

Their intellectual achievements have come more and more into the forefront as the months fly by. U-E's sports teams have promising futures with the abundance of good athletes in the Junior Class. A promising future is in store for the class of 1963 and it promises to be one of the best ever graduated from our alma mater.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The sophomores have concluded their first year at U-E. They have proven to be a valuable asset to our school by taking an active part in our school's projects.

Many outstanding members of the sophomore class have participated in our clubs. A few have been elected to offices in the clubs. Scholastically and athletically, the sophomores have shown prowess.

Most important, the sophomores have begun to realize the possibilities of a high school education and the opportunities a high school offers. The class of 1964 looks forward to a successful high school career at Union-Endicott.

... ACTIVE IN U-E

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

This year Student Government has played a large role in school activities. This year it has exercised much of the power made available to it by the new Constitution. This year the central organization of U-E has functioned under the Cabinet-Senate System to bring about action beneficial to the school.

The greatest accomplishment of the 1961-1962 government was a formulation of a policy for future governments to follow. This policy will be the basis for all Student Government projects in the coming years. The points of this program are:

1. Club cooperation.
2. Student motivation.
3. Leader determination.
4. Activity presentation.

The first part of Student Government's policy lies in its necessity to bring the clubs of the school together to work for the benefit of the school rather than themselves. This was partially realized this year. A "Meet the Clubs" Assembly was sponsored by the Cabinet and involved most of the organizations. Also, Cabinet meetings themselves fostered this ideal of cooperation.

One definite responsibility of a government is to promote the enthusiasm of its followers. This determines the overall spirit of the body. This year Student Government aroused feelings of patriotism by conducting the Magazine Drive, being host to many dances, and by circulating questionnaires tending to provoke thought. In this way it has tried to live up to the second aspect of the policy.

Any successful organization must have determined leaders. This attitude of determination to work zealously for the promotion of the organization is even more necessary in Student Government.

Whatever a Student Government does, it must make its activity known. This can be done by having a column in each newspaper edition; by making announcements over the public address system; and by having reports of each meeting made by the Senators.

Each part of this policy is designed to make Student Government effective in handling the affairs of the school. The governments which follow this four point policy will strengthen themselves and become the most beneficial units of Union-Endicott High School.

TECH CLUB

The Union-Endicott Technical Club, open to all interested in engineering, drafting or industrial work, offers its members social and educational opportunities. The program is planned by members of the club under the guidance of Faculty Advisors.

The club has many interesting activities such as visits to local industries, over-night trips to out of town plants, and movies on industrial topics. On the overall trips the student is able to see industries other than what he is familiar with, and to visit colleges he may someday attend. A good example of such a trip would be visiting Rochester's many industries. The U-E Tech students would see a die cutting plant, Eastman Kodak Co., Consolidated Machine Tool, R.I.T., and the University of Rochester.

In order to have needed money for these trips, the Tech students perform many services for the school. The main task rendered to the school is selling refreshments at basketball and wrestling matches.

KEY CLUB

Sponsored by the Endicott Kiwanis, the Key Club is a service club, primarily and fundamentally. The organization has as its objectives the development of initiative and leadership, provision of experience in living and working together, service to the school and community, cooperation with the school principal, and the preparation for useful citizenship.

Membership in the Key Club means that, in the opinion of the faculty and in the judgment of the Key Club members, the candidate concerned has the qualities of good character, good scholarship, and leadership ability. Being a part of the Key Club provides a good drill ground for community leadership and service. Membership is restricted to approximately 46 boys who are apportioned from the upper classes.

The Key Club is an organization which is international in scope with clubs both in the United States and Canada. Conventions and training conferences are held annually. The motto of Key Club International is "We Build." During the year Key Club members sold football programs and book covers, ushered at school functions, sponsored the Key Club Basketball Band, presented various programs at the Endicott Kiwanis Club and performed joint service projects with that organization. Other activities such as the Student-Faculty Basketball Game were carried out through committees and organized at the weekly meetings of the club. This year the U-E Key Club won state wide recognition since it edited the New York State Key Club publication of the "Empire Key."

Advisors of this service organization are Mr. Bruce Ellis of the high school faculty and Mr. Harry Deyo of the Endicott Kiwanis Club. Officers of the 1961-1962 school year are Peter Pazzaglini, president; Carl Borning, vice-president.

ACTIVITIES . . .

A typical noon-hour Key Club meeting at Colonial Hall shows the keen interest manifested by the members concerning the business at hand.

TRI-HI

Tri-Hi, the largest club in the school, is composed of approximately three hundred girls. The officers this year are Janice Vartuli, president; Alida Wattles, vice-president; Kathy Kushner, secretary; Kathy Casey, treasurer; Dorothy Economides, reporter. The advisor of Tri-Hi is Mrs. Maude Vartuli.

The All U-E Night Dance was the first major event sponsored by Tri-Hi. This annual affair honored the Varsity Football team. The dance took place on Thanksgiving night. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Football Queen, Chris Westgate, after a procession of the candidates for queen and their escorts, members of the football squad.

Tri-Hi and Key Club co-sponsored the student-faculty game which took place close to Christmas. All proceeds from the game went to Christmas Charities.

At the end of the basketball season, Tri-Hi sponsored a dance to honor the basketball team. A Basketball Queen was crowned at this dance.

The U-E Carnival was coordinated by Tri-Hi. Each club of U-E presented a project or booth to raise money. Prizes were awarded to the clubs who make the most money. All proceeds from the Carnival were contributed to the Tri-Hi Loan Fund. This unique fund makes it possible for Tri-Hi girls to borrow money to further their education.

Tri-Hi also presented an assembly program to the student body. The members of Tri-Hi have assisted on many money-raising projects. The club has held bake sales and candy sales. The money was deposited into the Loan Fund.

Hard-working Tri-Hi girls were given the opportunity to go to New York City. The members spent an enjoyable weekend in New York.

Tri-Hi awards three prizes to senior graduates. Prizes are given to the girl with the highest math average and the girl with the highest history average. A special prize is given to the girl who contributed the most to Tri-Hi in her three years at U-E.

TORNADO

The 1961-1962 school year marks the second year of publication of the Tornado, U-E's monthly newspaper.

The Tornado, which is published by a staff of 32 students, contains everything from spicy Tiger Tails to Student Government reports.

Led by their advisor, Miss Libous, the students are exposed to all facets of journalism—from writing to printing.

This year marked a major change in the format of the paper. It was enlarged from three columns to five columns and now contains more than twice as much information. With the increase in size also came an increase in staff and the addition of another editor.

Among the activities of the Tornado staff, in addition to the publication of 10 issues, were a bake sale and a dance.

With an eye to the future, the Tornado Editors and advisor have initiated a training and advancement program to insure competent and active leaders for the Tornado in the years to come.

DEBATE ACTIVITIES

Debate Club members and their coach go over final plans for Colgate-Syracuse debate on Federal aid to Education. Standing are Peter Vivona, Mrs. Smith, Phillip George, and Carl Borning.

The third year of Debate Club under Mrs. J. Smith saw many changes and many successes. For the first time in its existence, Debate Club held regular meetings, rather than the old set-up of eighth period gatherings. Debate Club also ventured into the entertainment business by presenting an "Evening of Debate" between Colgate and Syracuse Universities. Representatives from the area schools cross-examined the debaters to add to the excitement and suspense.

Most important, however, was the debate tournaments. This year's mid-regionals were held at Hamilton College where debaters, orators, and dramatic speakers all had an enjoyable time. This year also, Debate Club representatives went on television and heard their voices on radio. The successful work of this year will most certainly open many new vistas for the Debate Clubs of future years.

Alida Wattles emphasizes a point as she and her partner, Peter Pazzaglini, defeated C.V. in an interscholastic debate.

Carl Borning refutes the arguments presented by an opposing high school team.

FRENCH CLUB

"Le Cercle Français" is a club whose membership is open to all U-E students who are studying or who have studied French, those who are interested in learning more about France, its language, its people and its customs. The aim of French Club is to promote an interest in French life and culture.

French-speaking people are often invited to give talks or to show pictures on various phases of French life at the monthly meetings. During the past year, for example, Dr. Ketcham, a professor of French at Harper College, showed us slides of his recent trips to France and at another meeting, Mrs. Palazzo also showed her pictures of France. In September, Mrs. James Ibberson of France, now residing in Endwell spoke to the club about the differences between French and American young people. At a recent meeting, a film concerning the West Indies including the French islands of Guadeloupe and Martinique, was shown.

Shortly before Christmas, the French Club sent CARE packages to some French-speaking countries. The club also sponsored, along with the other language clubs, the "International Night Dance," held in May.

Miss Janet Mealy is the faculty advisor of the French Club. The officers for the past year were Carol Hauck, president; Betty Barney, vice-president; Ann Martens, treasurer; Vera Komanowski, secretary; Marilyn Pezzola, publicity chairman.

Carol Hauck, Betsey Barney, and Marilyn Pezzolla discuss plans for the cafe booth at the U-E Carnival.

French Club and French classes often have French speaking people talk to them. Here Miss Mealy speaks with Mrs. Alt.

SPANISH CLUB

This year the Spanish Club has increased tremendously in the number of its members. Due to the guidance of Mr. Carl Zonio, the Spanish Club is becoming one of the chartered organizations of the Union-Endicott High School.

In the early months of 1962 the organization has drawn up a new constitution which outlined its goals and various activities.

One of the main objectives this year will be to grant an award, to be presented upon graduation, to a senior who has shown interest and high standing in either Spanish II or Spanish I.

This year Jim Ivan served as president, Diane Henderson as vice-president, Donna Dorward as treasurer, and Carol Coles as secretary. Vera Komanowski was publicity chairman.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Future Teachers of America was organized at U-E in 1956. It is chartered by the National Education Association and the New York State Teachers Association. Its purpose, as stated in the Constitution are: "To learn about the teaching profession, its opportunities and its important role in our democracy," and "To learn how and where teachers receive their training, the cost, scholarships available, number of years required, certification requirements and standards."

The club accomplished these aims in a number of ways. At the November meeting Mrs. Manning gave an instructive talk on teachers' methods. During the December recess, club members were given an opportunity to attend a tea sponsored by Miss Mesereau at which students from teachers' colleges gave informative talks. The club made arrangements for its members to observe classes in other schools during the January Regents week. At one of its later meetings the club saw the film "And Gladly Teach." A cadet also talked about her training and teaching experiences. The club held several fund raising projects in order to give a scholarship to a worthy "Future Teacher."

Membership in the F.T.A. is open to all students of U-E who are interested in exploring teaching as a career and who exhibit the qualities of character, personality, scholarship, and leadership, essential for a good teacher.

The club officers for 1961-1962 were Elizabeth Casey, president; Donna Schmoll, vice-president; Janet Beach, Secretary; and Barbara Sheehan, treasurer. Mr. Goss is the faculty advisor.

THESAURUS EDITORS

THESAURUS

The 1962 Thesaurus has been a very active organization this year. It has introduced the novel idea of a horizontal yearbook and has carried out the idea to a successful completion.

The yearbook requires a great deal of time and energy. It often means that some of the staff members have to stay a long time after school to complete the work. Much planning of the yearbook is involved and this encompasses a great deal of work by the art, literary, business, photography and typing staffs.

This year many new ideas were initiated to improve all aspects of the yearbook. In addition to the horizontal design, a padded cover was added as well as the new policy of pledging for a yearbook. A dance was held to raise added money to help cover the costs of publishing.

The staff has had a busy and often trying year, but it has been well rewarded by seeing its ideas put into action and its hard work achieve a finished yearbook. The staff hopes that in the future years this book will be a true treasure for you and that the pictures of your friends and events at U-E will bring back memories and a smile.

This organization is interested in good workers who will turn out to be sound members. Meetings take place on the second Tuesday of the month. Once a student has become a member, he is entitled to receive a black blazer. This club is in its formative years. In years to come it will be one of the top clubs in the school.

MODEL U.N.

The purpose of the model U.N. assembly was to acquaint students with international problems. This year the afternoon session was devoted to debating the admission of Communist China. In this debate, U-E students, representing various countries, stood out. Margie Nimec, speaking in Russian, introduced the resolution of the Ukraine. Carl Borning, speaking for the neutralist Central African Republic, amended the resolution so that Nationalist China would retain its seat in the U.N. Jean Eichorn also assumed a neutralist role for Ceylon. The resolution was defeated indicating the prevalence of the West in this world situation.

In the evening session, the timely Troika issue was debated. Again U-E students stood out. Peter Vivona served as president of the evening session and Peter Pazzaglini as vice-president. Both maintained strict order. Representing the neutralist bloc, Ed Castro demanded equal time with the Eastern and Western powers and he spoke on behalf of the neutralist interests at the assembly. Taking advantage of Parliamentary procedure, Mike Howrilka constantly made points of personal inquiry to cross-examine the speakers. Phil George moved for censorship of certain remarks made by the Yugoslavian delegate. The motion was quickly passed. The resolution, though, was defeated, and again the power of the West was felt. U. E. traveled home with a feeling of accomplishment.

BOYS' STATE

Boys' State is an institution set up the first week of summer vacation for boys from every corner of New York State. The boys are chosen in their respective schools to represent these schools at this institution. The boys are between their junior and senior years in high school.

The institution itself is just what its name indicates, a state composed entirely of boys. There are separate cities and counties within, each of which has its elected officials of government. When completely established, this group of boys functions exactly like New York State, only in miniature.

The main purpose of Boys' State is to illustrate and explain to the boys by actual practice, the organization and functions of the various offices and institutions of our state government.

CHEERLEADERS

The echoes of the Union-Endicott Varsity Cheerleaders were heard throughout the year. The voices of these girls contributed a great deal to this year's school spirit.

The cheerleaders were loyally present at all varsity football and basketball games, and participated in all Pep Assemblies and rallies. The squad also helped to keep the school spirit tops by selling colorful orange and black shakers. The girls deservingly received this year new orange sweaters.

All in all, Mrs. Michaels can surely be proud of her girls!

VARSITY FOOTBALL

As autumn draws near, "King Football" comes into his own. From the greenest high school gridiron to the dustiest sandlot, pigskins fill the air. And so with the referee's shout, "First down, ten to go," we begin the story of our 1961 football season.

All football teams have their building year and U-E was no exception in the 1961 season. Suffering from the loss of thirty seniors, this year's team had only three returning lettermen. But if ambition and desire decide the outcome of football games, the 'Tigers' record of two wins and six losses, would have fared much better.

Coaches Fran Angeline, Frank Sorochinsky, and Robert Adams had the team practicing one week before they entered school in September, 1961, and to many of us who came out to see the team some early September afternoon, it seemed that the coaches would have a tough time rounding the squad into shape for the forthcoming season.

Though we took a beating in our first game at the hands of a strong Ithaca eleven, neither the student body nor the team itself were by any means discouraged; this had been our first game of the young season.

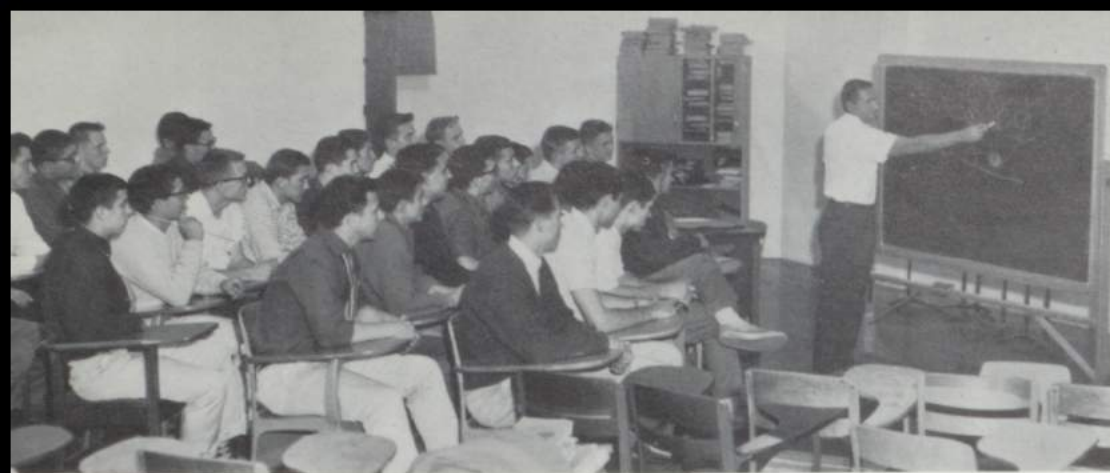

Improving by experience in every game, the Tigers showed their potential as they rolled over Elmira Free Academy, 20-0. The Orange Tornadoes played one of their best games against the Southern Tier Conference champions, Elmira Southside. Although they came out on the wrong side of a six to nothing score, the Tigers completely outplayed their foes. However, they failed to capitalize on important breaks. The Tigers treated the Central team roughly as they handed them a 19-6 defeat.

Leaving from this year's squad will be defensive stalwarts: Mike Harder, Bill Margetanski, Jack Vanderveen, John Julian, and Claude Connelly, and offensive threats Jim Michael, Roger Scales, Dick Greco, and Captain Mike Ciotoli.

Our overall record of 2-6 may seem to have been a poor one, yet close examination of the teams we played will show that with the time and material available, our football team, although it didn't have a winning season, had a good season.

Jim Michael races for a firstdown against a hardened North squad, as Joe Konrad (66) runs interference.

Determination and desire is personified in Coach Fran Angeline's face as he plans his strategy for the first half of the Vestal game.

Coach Angeline gives a few pointers to his 1961 football captain, Mike Ciotoli.

Dick Streno sparks the U-E defense as Tigers Ron Macon (71), Bob Atkinson (26), Claude Connelly (54), and Joe Konrad charge in on the attack.

The basis for a varsity football team is a strong Jay Vee squad. The job of junior varsity coach, Russell Nicosia, is to verse future U-E gridsters in the fundamentals of the game. The art of tackling and blocking is as complicated as any science, and must be approached in much the same manner. Coach Nicosia puts the J.V.'s through a routine similar to that of the varsity. Running is the first item on the agenda, exercises are next, these are followed by certain drills, and then actual contact in scrimmage.

Although the main objective of junior varsity football is experience, the boys play a schedule. The schedule, which consists of six games, was molded into a three and three record by the junior Tigers. Blanking their opponents from Owego twice (14-0, 28-0) proved that the Tigers have the potentials in the defensive department. Also their ability to score at least 1 to 4 touchdowns in every game, except the Binghamton Central game, may be some indication of what may be expected of them in offense. Losses to Binghamton North, and Vestal plus a 27-13 victory over Johnson City rounded out the remainder of the Tiger schedule.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

U-E was unfortunate this year due to the complete loss of last year's starting team. With all new material Coach Wurtenburg built his team around last year's section 4 championship J.V. team. Starting off the season well, the Tigers dropped into a 6-game slump as their offense would not click. But the Orange's fate changed as they upped Elmira R.A. 48-16. The offensive punch of the U-E courtmen clicked again as they smothered their rivals from Seton 66-54.

Fred Karaman has been the most consistent point getter as he has averaged double figures. Bob Atkinson shared the play making duties with Don Stack while Dick Watkins, Ken Pacioni and Bob Desko managed the backboard.

Although their record was not overwhelming, the Tigers gave their best and the number of returning lettermen promises a much brighter future.
