Change—John Dranchak

We are inhabitants of a world in transition. From the very dawn of creation this globe has undergone a vast perpetual mutation from which has evolved the concept of mankind as we know it today. Transition and time are synonymous; for a change to occur there must be a lapse of time, no matter how small. Time, to us, is a tangible, yet abstract element, a concept so real that it regulates our every movement, yet so elusive that it swiftly passes us by nearly unnoticed.

Because time and change are the same, change, too, must affect us in a similar manner. Our definition of change is something that wasn't—yesterday, is—today, and probably won't be—tomorrow. Yet, with change, there usually comes achievement. This is our motive in constantly seeking out distant horizons and this is also our reason for gaining them.

Quite often change brings about a deterioration of tradition, of patriotic heritage, of historic pride. We tend to forget about the immense pyramid of human building blocks that is the very foundation upon which our present society stands. There seems to occur, however, at certain periods in history, a change which has such profound implications that we suddenly remember our heritage and again rescue the treasures which have been lost. War is such a change—and death.

Certainly we shall all face circumstances which will take courage to repel and strength of convictions to defeat, but even the most desolate of situations changes. This is where we must make an adamant stand. Here we must hold the flag of democracy with unfaltering poise in the face of our foe, whoever he may be. For, if we stand up for our rights and steadfastly anchor our allegiances in the depths of our convictions, even though strong winds and currents from undesirable sources rush at us and temporarily alter our course, we shall eventually gain headway and ultimately repel those deterring forces from our path.

It is certainly a relatively simple task to stand up to a simple problem and defeat it. The difficulty lies in how well one will react to the rigors of grave anguish, and in this, only the human mind can instigate the necessary liberating change.

Dear Members of the Class of 1964:

I was happy to learn that you had decided to dedicate your yearbook to our late President John F. Kennedy. This, I feel, is an excellent way in which you can express your respect and admiration for this great leader.

Shortly after the death of President Kennedy there were some who said that we cannot say yet what place history will give him as a president. This is so because his actions and his programs will have to stand the test of time. His greatness as an American, however, has already been determined. His courage, his vision, his determination, his love of country and his desire for peace with honor caught the imagination of the American people and helped make many of us more grateful and appreciative of our glorious past and more aware of the leadership role the United States must play in the world today. His program to extend the rights and opportunities of this land to all, regardless of color, helped focus our attention on a serious problem which must be met and resolved if we are to give more than lip service to several of the most cherished provisions of our Constitution.

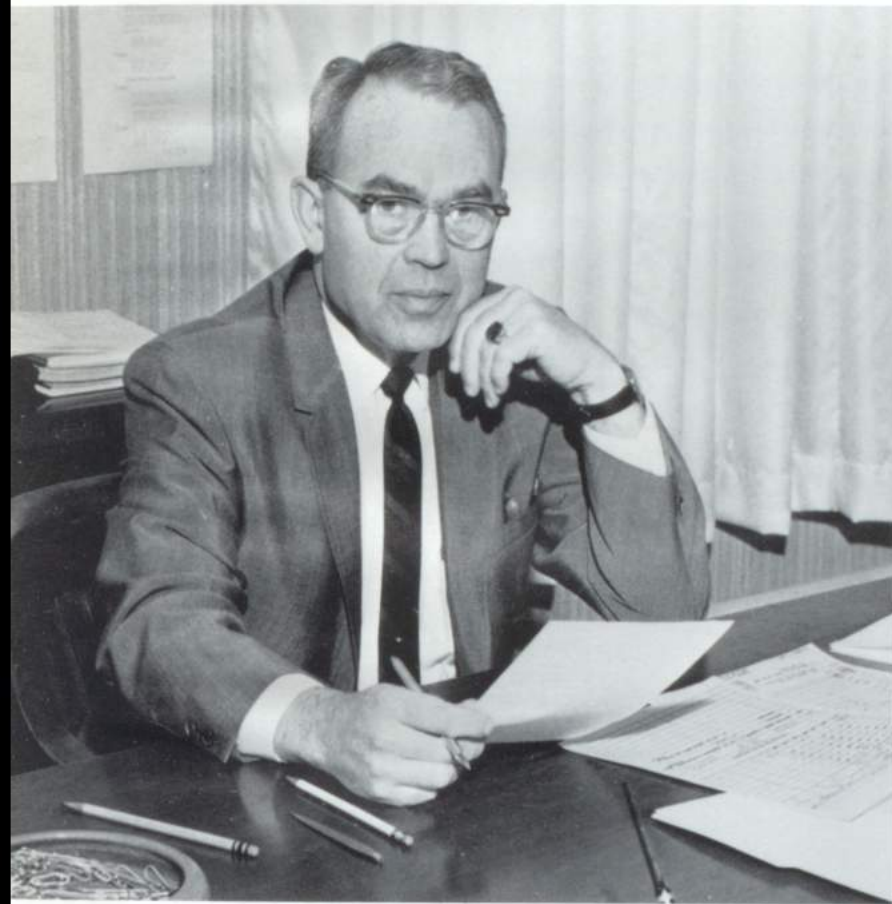

These are only a few thoughts that come to my mind as I think of our late President.

As a tribute to him it is our responsibility, yours and mine and that of all Americans, to participate actively in making our democratic form of government work and in keeping the United States strong.

Sincerely,
Robert D. Agone

assistant superintendent

Fullest development of the intellect and talents of the individual was stated repeatedly by President Kennedy as a primary national goal and a national necessity. He said, "I believe in an America where every child is educated, not according to his means or his race, but according to his capacity." And he said, "Democracy demands more of us than any other system in education, character, self-restraint and self-discipline . . . Our progress as a nation can be no swifter than our progress in education. The human mind is our fundamental resource."

Schools, auditoriums, airports and bridges have already been re-named for our dead president—all fitting memorials. But achievement of the educational goals for our country which he so strongly endorsed would be the most fitting and enduring memorial of all. They can be achieved in only one way, pursuit of learning by the individual and appropriate respect for learning by our society. And they can be accomplished only as we strive toward them in schools and cities and villages throughout the country. Let us start now and here, here at U-E.

Paul C. Bradt

At Union-Endicott High School students and teachers alike have experienced a decided change in building, facilities and program. Consequently, it is most appropriate that the theme for the 1963-64 Thesaurus be CHANGE.

Change for the sake of change alone is not desirable but change as an outgrowth of improvement is much desired. We can be proud indeed that our community is willing to invest time, money, and faith in our educational improvements.

However, a school building change or a curricular change cannot guarantee good education. Our community, through its schools, can provide only the opportunity to learn. The rest remains with the student. Even this, then, is worthless unless the student is willing to put into practice that which he has learned.

Good education changes people. Change may not always bring about vast improvement, but certainly improvement cannot come about without some change.

Martin Bortnick, Jr.
Principal

vice principal

It is quite appropriate that the theme of the Thesaurus should be CHANGE; for indeed the students have now long adjusted to the necessities of change brought about by the building program of the Union-Endicott School District. The theme, CHANGE, is even more appropriate today as we reflect upon the national scene, for indeed, the whole world is a scene of changes: changing religious and political philosophies, changes in heads of states, the births of new nations, and changes in technology with their sociological impact; one could go on almost indefinitely.

Change is essential to progress but should not be confused as synonymous with progress. Only through education and on the tested tracks of experience and tradition can change provide the new form which can be considered progress.

Michael E. Gance

Our task in this country is to do our best, to serve our nation's interest as we see it, and not to be swayed from our course by the faint-hearted and the unknowing.

fair exchange

From a small all girls' "college" in Ballarat, Victoria, Australia, came Helen Pope, U-E's first exchange student. Sponsored by the Ballarat Rotary Club, she was given an opportunity to come halfway around the world to the America she had dreamed of visiting. Since her arrival on January 21, she has been living in Rotarians' homes as a family member. As she has been seeing our way of life, we have been learning how Australians live, which is really much the same.

The U-E student body thank Helen for the experiences which she has given them and hope that her summer vacation and the remainder of the one year's stay in Endicott is pleasurable and meaningful.

On the morning of February 23, 1964, Mary Delaney, a junior, boarded a plane in New York bound for Karingae, Australia. Her trip is sponsored by the Rotary Exchange Program and she was chosen to represent this district as a result of interviews through which she was distinguished as the most qualified candidate. She will remain in Australia for one year and will act as both student and teacher, for she will be experiencing as representing a different way of life.

This year the National Honor Society has attempted to become more active in U-E. Immediately after the installation of twelve new senior members, the Society began to make plans for raising funds. The Society annually plans some project for the teachers on Teacher Appreciation Day. Earlier in the year arrangements were made for the members to have honor passes and to have a special study room for use during study halls. The passes were given and approved by the advisor, Miss Hollister, and the vice-principal, Mr. Gance.

In February Miss Vogelgsang spoke to the members on Shakespeare. More lectures and speeches are planned for the near future.

Student Government

Every student finds equal representation in our able-governing body. Each fall, representatives are chosen from the individual home-rooms. The student government's chief goal is to represent the student body and to co-ordinate class and club activities for the benefit of the individual students.

Besides the permanent duty of conducting class officer elections, the student government has this year initiated a student tutor system and established a school publicity committee. It also purchased a camera for this committee to use to further publicize school activities. Under the Foster Parents Plan, U-E's student government is sponsoring a Korean orphan. The possibility of a student lounge was studied.

The Student Government was a truly active and productive organization this year.

The Key Club is a service organization sponsored by the Endicott Kiwanis Club. Members are elected upon recommendation of the principal and guidance counselors. This year Key Club members sold football programs, contributed to local charities and decorated the outside of the school at Christmas. One of the major projects was the cleaning and polishing of the World War II memorial plaques in the main corridor. Advisors of the Club are Mr. Fred Kennedy of the faculty and Mr. Harry Deyo of the Endicott Kiwanis Club. Officers of the 1963-64 school year were Gary Cornick, president; Kim Whittmore, vice-president; Steve Randesi, secretary; Dave Latta, treasurer; and Tom Morris and Mike Miklosko, directors.

The Tornado has been the U-E student paper for four years; this year six issues were printed. Each paper contains club, sports and general student news including Tiger Tales.

Mr. Toton and Mr. Fanning were newly appointed in September to be advisors. They have planned a program of training for sophomore and junior staff members to insure a competent staff in future years.

Commercial Club helps to prepare business students for positions which they may attain upon graduation from high school. A student staff, one section of the Commercial Club, aids teachers in carrying out jobs of a business nature.

Speakers from the business world acquaint the members with duties and obligations they may encounter in an office position after graduation.

Future plans include more speakers and trips to local business establishments.

debate club

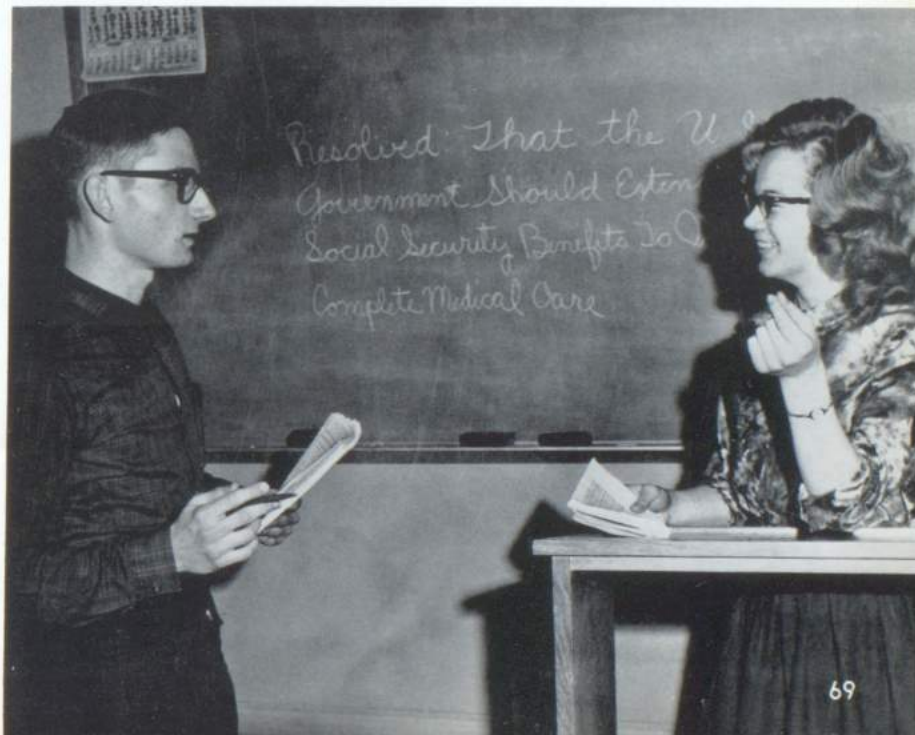

The U-E Debate Club was founded to give members an opportunity to develop poise and self-confidence in debating and public speaking. A member of the National Forensic League, the Debate Club participates in both interscholastic and intrascholastic debates. The club's annual goal is to send its entire membership to New York State Mid-Regionals to compete with clubs from all over the state for honors. During the 1963-1964 season, U-E has debated Johnson City, Chenango Valley, Owego, and Binghamton Catholic Central High Schools. The club has been represented twice on the WINR television program, "Junior League Debate."

Organized for the purpose of keeping school spirit high at U-E, Tri-Hi has grown in membership to about 300 girls. Any high school girl is eligible for membership.

The present advisor of Tri-Hi is Mrs. Vartuli. This year's officers are: President, Sheila Bilka; Vice-President, Jill Packard; Secretary, Sue Vartuli; Treasurer, Lucille Tametta; and Publicity, Nancy Butz.

The two big projects of Tri-Hi this past year were the Thanksgiving Day Dance and a dance in the Spring. Each year, the football players and a new queen are honored during the dance. This year the dance was special because the past 25 football captains, football queens and Tri-Hi presidents were also honored. The dance in the Spring was in honor of the basketball players. The basketball queen was crowned at this dance.

Other activities of Tri-Hi have been a candy sale and the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet for all Tri-Hi members and their mothers. Preparation of food and entertainment is by Tri-Hi members.

Tri-Hi also has a loan fund in the amount of about $10,000. This fund is available to any girl who needs financial assistance for further education.

radio club

The Amateur Radio Club has been successful in many activities. The club participated in a contest sponsored by and for high school and college radio clubs, and placed third nationally. In the three years of its existence, the club has contacted over 1,000 amateurs in forty states and ten foreign countries.

Club membership is open to all persons genuinely interested in amateur radio. The purpose of the club is to assist persons in obtaining their licenses from the Federal Communications Commission and informing members of the best amateur practices.

In future years, the club hopes to have a completely equipped radio station so that members may be able to communicate during the school day with amateurs throughout the world.

Great student interest has been shown in Drama Club, U-E's newest organization. In its first year in existence, it has a total of fifty members, making it one of the school's largest clubs. The goal of the Drama Club is to give those students interested in drama a chance to perform and better understand theatre arts.

This year, the club put on the smash Broadway hit, "You Can't Take It With You." Other activities included trips to performances of Civic Theatre's "Born Yesterday" and "Ghosts."

As can be seen, Drama Club may well prove to be one of U-E's most active organizations.

french club

"Le Cercle Français," the French Club of U-E, is an organization whose purpose is to learn about France, its language, people, and customs, and to promote an interest in French life and culture.

During the past year several people who had lived in or visited in France spoke to the group.

Plans were made for a trip next year to Quebec. Various money-making projects for the trip were carried out, including a pennant sale, a bake sale and a car wash.

The idea of joint activities between the French Clubs in the Triple Cities schools materialized this year when U-E French Club members were invited to a Christmas party held by the Vestal French Club. More joint activities are planned for the future.

In the spring a French-style banquet was held, which featured French food and student entertainment.

The officers of "Le Cercle Français" this year were: Joanne Kaplan, president; Betty Brundage, vice-president; Carol Prier, secretary; Jeff Burke, treasurer; Margaret Casey, publicity chairman. Mrs. Palazzo and Mrs. Kervin are faculty advisors to the group.

The Union-Endicott High School History Seminar has been more active this year than since its origin four years ago. Charles Willsey, the group's advisor, arranged a very educational trip to Washington, D.C. during Easter vacation. The trip to New York City in the fall and the evening dinners have helped to maintain the interest of the group whose original objective was to give those students interested in history a chance to discover new and varied interpretations of history.

Congratulations, Mr. Willsey, on the John Hay Fellowship Award.

Each year four juniors who are interested in attending Syracuse University and who have outstanding qualities of good citizenship are selected to join the four seniors who participate in the Syracuse Citizenship Conference.

The juniors take an aptitude and achievement test and each member prepares a three-minute speech on an assigned topic. This year's topic was "Political Extremism."

The purpose of this conference is to promote good democratic citizenship and to provide winners with a scholarship to Syracuse University. The Syracuse Conference also provides an opportunity for recognition of America's best future leaders.

Participating seniors were: Linda Ringers, Linda Owen, Nancy Nichols and Bruce Bonner. Juniors were: Jill Anderson, Nancy Butz, Margaret Casey, and David Latta. Scholarship winners are announced at the conference and awards are presented at the June commencement exercises.

Each year, with its meeting place at Colgate University in Hamilton, New York, Boys' State plays host to one thousand boys from throughout the state.

During the week's stay at Boys' State, members are given an opportunity to actually perform the duties of city, county, and state governments.

Activities also include listening to guest speakers and taking part in athletic competition.

The purpose of the Mathletes team is to encourage students to enter the field of mathematics and to give them an opportunity to gain recognition for their achievements in math. In their first two years the U-E Mathletes won the trophy presented by the Technical and Engineering Council of the Southern New York area. This year nine area schools competed.

At each meet there are five timed problems, and five members of the team participate on each question. Each correct answer counts one point for the person and his team. The highest score wins that particular meet, and at the end of the year, the team with the highest cumulative score receives a trophy engraved with the names of the members of the team. Individual awards are given to participants who score a certain percentage of correct answers.

Under the supervision of their advisor, Mrs. Wood, the Mathletes are encouraged in furthering their study and enjoyment of mathematics.

The Union-Endicott A Cappella Choir, directed by Mrs. Ruth Hughes, has, as in former years, upheld its fine standard of vocal presentations. The members work diligently during rehearsals as well as in voice classes to accomplish this.

The Choir participates yearly in many other activities such as providing concerts for the entertainment of the Rotarians and Kiwanians. In addition, soloists prepare for singing engagements before other groups.

"Trial by Jury"

This year the choir presented an operetta for its spring program. The operetta, "Trial by Jury," was written by Gilbert and Sullivan. It is a comedy-satire concerning the process of law. A young girl, Angelina, has been jilted by her suitor, Edwin. She is suing him for falsification of affections. But the "honest" judge is visibly biased and openly supports the cute Angelina. The jury also pities the plaintiff and it looks hopeless for Edwin. But justice always triumphs and the problem is resolved.

Future Teachers of America was organized at U-E in 1956. It is chartered by the National Education Association and the New York State Teachers Association. The purposes of the club, as stated in the Constitution, are: "To learn about the teaching profession, its opportunities and its important role in our democracy," and "To learn how and where teachers receive their training, the cost, scholarships available, number of years required, certification requirements and standards."

During the January Regents week, club members observed classes in local elementary schools. At meetings they learned about teacher training, social life, and teaching experiences from several cadets who were guest speakers. The club officers conferred with members of Vestal's F.T.A. for ideas on club activities and goals.

Membership is open to all students of U-E who are interested in exploring teaching as a career and who exhibit the character, personality, scholarship, and leadership essential to a good teacher.

The club officers for 1963-1964 were Carol Pacioni, president; Mary Ann English, vice-president; Angela Como, secretary; and Carol Makowsky, treasurer. Miss Cocetti is the faculty advisor.

The members of the Union Endicott Concert Band have had a successful year after a hectic fall season with no place to rehearse but in the Ty Cobb stadium. They were very happy to get into their new quarters made possible by the renovation. While there are many small areas yet to be completed, they have an acoustically conditioned rehearsal room and practice facilities. Last year the band won an "A" rating in the band competition sponsored by the New York State School Music Association, and it is their hope and ambition to continue this record.

The Wind Ensemble was organized by Mr. Bryden and is made up of students who have played in the concert band but who, through tryouts, have proven themselves to be superior musicians. It gives these people an opportunity to play music of a more advanced nature than would be possible to do with the concert band. Instrumentation is limited to thirty-eight musicians.

The Wind Ensemble performed at the Annual Spring Concert, the New York State Music Association contest and presented a program on WNBC television in conjunction with the STETA programs.

The Union-Endicott Band Boosters Club, a parents organization formed with the following objectives in mind:

To arouse and maintain an enthusiastic interest in the various phases of the instrumental music program of the Union-Endicott High School.

To lend all possible support to the general instrumental music program of the school.

The club this year was active in supporting the annual concert, band trips and laying the groundwork for the purchase of new uniforms for the band.

These girls carried the eight conference flags. They also did routines with the flags which contributed to the flash and color of the half-time shows.

The Tigerettes are a newly organized supplement to the marching band. The organization consists of twenty girls who were selected from more than fifty original applicants. They have done much to add sparkle and color to the football half-time shows and we are very proud of them in this their first year as a drill unit. We feel very sure that every football fan will look forward to seeing them in all of the half-time and marching maneuvers that are to come next year.

One of U-E's newest and fastest growing organizations is the Varsity Club. Membership in the club is open to all boys who have earned a major letter, or two minor letters, in a varsity sport.

The club meets on the second Tuesday of each month. Activities sponsored by the Varsity Club are the "Harlem Magicians" in the spring, a wrestling tournament, and the "Lettermen's Banquet" in the summer.

Established members may purchase a club jacket which is being selected at the present time.

The elected officers for 1964 are: President, Dom Iacovazzi; Vice President, Mark Seliga; Treasurer, Bob Christianson; and Secretary, John Signorelli. The Club's advisor is Mr. Henry M. Vetter, Director of Athletics at U-E.

School spirit is essential at basketball and football games. What better way to obtain enthusiasm than through the leadership of the cheerleaders?

Dressed colorfully in orange and black uniforms, they contribute much to the spirited quality of cheering at athletic events.

Forty-four years of dedicated service to the students of Union-Endicott was terminated by the death of Miss Adona Sick, school librarian since 1920. Her death and the opening of U-E's long awaited new library occurred almost simultaneously. In past months, Miss Sick had carried out her duties as head librarian in the face of insurmountable difficulties.

Miss Sick's long and faithful record of service to our school stands as an inspiration to those who wish to see U-E always moving forward.

One of the most startling, as well as pleasant changes resulting from the renovation is the new library. In what used to be the scene of many exciting basketball games, we now find a spacious, well organized (and carpeted) library. Many thanks must be extended to Mrs. Griffith, our new librarian, and her assistant, Mrs. Atkinson, for tackling the tremendous job of organizing all the library material for the use of the student body.

"Let the word go forth from this time and place, to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans—born of this century, tempered by war, disciplined by a hard and bitter peace, proud of our ancient heritage—and unwilling to witness or permit the slow undoing of human rights to which this nation has always been committed."

J. F. Kennedy

class will

We, the class of 1963-64, being of sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath on our underclassmen the following:

To Joanie Palumbo, Linda Rossi leaves her great height.

To Mr. Young, Carole, Jackie, Laura and Rita leave an empty bottle of Ambush.

To Juliene Lukas, Sue Kordinack leaves her ability to catch a guy in her sophomore year and still have him when she's a senior.

To the junior girls on the girls' football team the senior girls on the football team leave the ability to play football.

To Al Hitchcock, Dan Davis leaves his senior teachers.

To the junior boys on the varsity team, the senior girls on the girls' football team leave the guts to play football.

To Sarah Carpenter, Jean Hosay leaves her sister's many loves.

To anyone who wants her, Terri Mangan is left by her sister, Kathy.

To Mr. Nicosia, a certain group of senior girls leave him a pair of suspenders to keep his pants cuffs from dragging on the floor.

To no one is left nothing by Tom Cooper as he is taking all of it with him.

To George Gossart, Bob Latini leaves a book entitled "How to get out of a boys club locker," by Houdini.

To Sheila Donovan, the ability to act M.R. is left by two M.R.'s in room 206.

To Mark Murtha, Denny Cochardo leaves a black coating of soot.

To Tom White, Alan Shawkey leaves his ability to spend last week of football in Ideal Hospital.

To the next owner of locker no. 1124, Gae Errigo leaves her fruit flies and one moldy banana.

To the junior girls, Rita Bernardo leaves the suggestion to sign up for Basic Art as you NEVER know who might be teaching it.

To George Hudock and Glen Ingram, Frank Bush and Bob Latini leave their ability to make tombstones and their great respect for their best buddy ever, no. 23, across the river.
